

Auto Workers Collect Raise; Would Prefer Rollback In Prices

DETROIT—A million members of the CIO United Auto Workers will collect an extra three cents an hour starting March 1 because of an increase in the government's cost-of-living index.

However, union secretary-treasurer Emil Mazey said soon after the index rise was announced in Washington yesterday:

"Price roll-backs would be infinitely preferable to further wage increases growing out of price increases."

Six In 15 Months

The boost of two-tenths of one per cent means that UAW members working under "escalator clause" contracts will get their sixth pay increase in 15 months. The raises total 28 cents.

Thousands of salaried workers in auto companies also will get cost of living allowances for the period from March 1 to June 1 as a result of the index rise. These range from $120 to $126.

Mazey, in his statement, called for stronger controls on prices and enactment of the Moody-Dingell bill that would pay federal unemployment benefits to workers laid off during the defense changeover.

Many Walk Streets

He said members of the UAW were "fortunate" to have the "partial protection" of cost-of-living contracts, but added that rising prices are hitting hard against the unemployed and those with fixed incomes.

"Thousands of our members are walking the street in search of work," Mazey declared, "most of them are trying to exist on pitifully inadequate state unemployment compensation. Others have

Killing Suspect Slain By Posse

COLUMBUS, Miss.—(AP)—A posse hunting the slayer of a white plantation owner shot and killed a 39-year-old Negro ex-convict near this northeast Mississippi town.

Sheriff's Deputy Tom Glover said Robert Cobb was shot down as he fired at a group of about eight posse members while he fled across a field yesterday. The field was four miles west of the plantation where John Allison Hardy Sr. was killed early Tuesday.

Hardy, prominent in New Orleans as well as here, was fatally shot as he sought to stop an argument at the house of his Negro cook. Sheriff C. E. Farmer said he took him later Cobb had been there and declared he would never be taken alive.

As soon as the death of the 62-year-old planter was noised about, between 75 to 100 neighbors assembled at his home and were deputized to hunt Cobb. Other Columbus counties joined the hunt under authority of a Mississippi law which authorizes any citizen to arrest any person known to be wanted for a felony.

Possemen blocked off an area of several square miles and began to comb it. As several approached clearing, they sighted Cobb running across it from concealment in a wooded area.

Glover said they called on Cobb to halt but the Negro turned and fired at least twice before the posse members cut him down.

Witnesses Remain Coy In Detroit Red Quiz

By FELIX B. WOLD

DETROIT—A young factory worker, unwilling witness before the House Un-American Activities Committee's inquiry into Michigan Communism, charged today he was threatened at his job.

The accusation came from John Cherveney, 26, who defied a subcommittee as a witness yesterday, refusing to answer questions.

Men Carry Rope

Cherveney appeared shortly before noon at the federal building, site of the hearing, to say he had been threatened at his work by 12 men, one of whom carried a rope. Cherveney said he left the plant, American Metal Products, Inc., after management refused to call police.

Teacher Turns Up

A "missing" school teacher turned up and said she would testify.

The undercover testimony came from Wayne Salisbury, a printer at the Jackson-Citizen Patriot. Salisbury said he had joined the Communist party at the suggestion of state police.

Salisbury, reading from a long statement, said he had gone to state police after certain neighbors, members of the Communist party, had asked him to join the party. "It was then, he said, the police suggested he join the group.

The witness told of Communist party meetings, including one at Lansing. Among others attending this meeting, he said, were persons he named as Caspar Kennedy, of Flint, A. Mr. "Davey" of Grand Rapids, and William Glenn, of Grand Rapids.

When Glenn's name was mentioned, Committee Counsel Frank S. Tavenier Jr. disclosed that the committee has been unable to serve a subpoena on Glenn. Last week, Glenn's subpoenaing as a witness was disclosed, but not until today had the committee advised him.

Senator Perry W. Greene (R-Grand Rapids) said the state treasury was in no condition to finance any monuments, but that the highway designation was "just a slight gesture we can make in honor of a great man."

Senator Harold M. Ryan (D-Detroit) chided the Senate "naming a street after the Senator is not much of a memorial; in Detroit we change the names of streets every time a new hero comes along."

Ryan said the Legislature should name a committee to study a "fitting" memorial to Vandenberg.

Sen. Vandenberg Memorial Loses

LANSING—(AP)—There'll be no monument to the late U. S. Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg voted by the economy-minded 1952 Senate.

A monument appropriation of $50,000 was defeated in the Senate yesterday. Then the chamber passed a bill designating US-16 from Detroit to Muskegon as the Arthur H. Vandenberg Memorial Highway, explaining that it will cost little.

Senator Perry W. Greene (R-Grand Rapids) said the state treasury was in no condition to finance any monuments, but that the highway designation was "just a slight gesture we can make in honor of a great man."

New Levies Will Hit Consumer, Williams Says

LANSING — (AP)—Michigan's boiling tax fight today had Governor Williams tuning his war drums against legislative tax plans while the legislature's money committees raised tomahawks over appropriations for the colleges and universities.

Williams, addressing a farmer audience at Jackson last night, pounded the theme that the Legislature's "no new taxes" program actually will lead to higher local property taxes and more levies on the articles of daily life.

College Funds Slashed

The House and Senate appropriations committees indicated there would be little or no money for new buildings at any of the educational institutions, nor money to cover pay raises already granted staffs of the University of Michigan and Michigan State College.

Williams said in his speech anyone who calls the legislative tax program a "no new taxes" plan "is kidding himself and trying to kid you."

He said the Legislature now is considering taking about $18,500,000 away from local governments, which would force higher local property taxes.

He lashed recommendations of a "citizens' advisory committee" to a legislative tax study committee. He hit especially at proposals for a "used car use tax," a tax on telephone service, a tax on tourist rooms, and a tax on unincorporated business.

Treasury Runs Low

"Some of these bills I may be compelled to sign," Williams said, "in order to relieve the state's terrible financial emergency."

But he argued that the program is "loaded" with new taxes hitting consumers.

He recalled that last year Speaker of the House Victor A. Knox (R-Sault Ste. Marie) charged the "baleful influence" of business lobbyists with blocking a corporations profits tax. Williams added the same bill was buried now in a committee "of the same House headed by the same speaker."

The Legislative appropriations committees told President John A. Hannah of Michigan State College there probably will be no money for new construction at the tax-supported colleges and institutions, including M.S.C.'s hoped-for new library and animal industries building.

They likewise indicated the

Eckerman Citizens Help Boy Who Lost Legs Under Train

ECKERMANN, Mich.—(AP)—The good citizens of this Upper Peninsula lumbering town will stage a pulpwood bee March 1 for the benefit of 10-year-old Ken (Buddy) Bailey.

The boy lost both legs Feb. 14 when he fell under a slow-moving freight train after hitching a ride.

Lumberman Charles Taylor has donated 10 acres of timber five miles west of here. Townspeople plan to cut the timber into pulpwood length and truck it to nearby railroads in one day.

The money will go into a "Buddy Bailey Fund" for his education and medical care.

RABID DOGS SHOT—Detective Cornelius Royston blasts away with his pistol as a stray dog attempts to dodge for cover. Royston and his partner, Detective Sgt. Fred Theriaque, have killed nine stray dogs since East St. Louis, Ill., began an anti-rabies drive. Twenty-four rabid dogs have been found in St. Clair County since the first of the year. # State Building Plans Delayed By Bottleneck

LANSING — (P)—Michigan hospital construction is being delayed by a bottleneck in the State Office of Hospital Survey and Construction, according to spokesmen of the State Building Division.

They explain it this way: Before last January requests for the approval of the use of scarce metals such as steel, copper and aluminum in hospital construction were relayed direct to Washington.

"They were very prompt in replying and in fact fell over backwards in expediting things," a spokesman said. "The average wait was a week to 10 days."

The first of the year it was decided that all such requests should be channeled through one state agency—in Michigan the Office of Hospital Survey and Construction.

Building Division spokesmen charge that under the new system waits a month or six weeks are common and that some requests put in early in January haven't even been acknowledged as yet.

Some examples of the former system were given, as follows:

Approval was requested for metals for the Ferris Institute classroom building July 19. Washington gave approval July 27. Approval was asked on metals for remodeling buildings at the Northern Michigan College of Education July 31; approval was received August 10. Approval was asked for the Ionia power plant July 12. It was approved July 18.

Duncan Sisters Stage Comeback

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — (AP)—The Duncan Sisters, who made and lost millions as "Topsy and Eva," started another chapter in their fabulous career last night by staging a comeback.

A capacity crowd packed the Saddle and Siroin restaurant in nearby San Fernando Valley and cheered the old timers. After 45 minutes of their comedy and songs, Rosetta (Topsy) and Vivian (Eva) bowed off in tears.

They won't admit their ages—"because if we did people would say we're 12 years older than that." They are reportedly in their late 50's, but they performed with the zest of starlets. Vivian played the piano and Rosetta, always the comedienne in the act, bounced around and kidded with the audience. At the close, they brought on Vivian's daughter, a 21-year-old beauty named Evelyn Asther to join them in their close harmony.

The Duncans are resuming their career after a 10-year lapse.

Young Robinson Takes Army Physical Tests

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Edward G. Robinson Jr., 19-year-old son of the actor, took his pre-induction physical examination yesterday. He will know in a few weeks whether he passed it.

The youth was ordered out of his father's house recently after he eloped to Mexico with 21-year-old Francis Chisholm, television actress. His father also stopped his $70 weekly allowance.

Student Gets 15 Years For Dynamiting Home

DOTHAN, Ala.—(AP)—An 18-year-old high school student was sentenced to 15 years in prison for dynamiting a rural home.

Wilburn Ervin Jr., of nearby Cottonwood pleaded guilty at the start of his trial yesterday. The sentence was imposed on agreement of attorneys for both sides.

Ervin previously had pleaded innocent to a charge that he set off dynamite which almost demolished the home of Mrs. Bedell Grant near Dothan. She and five children were sleeping in the dwelling at the time but all escaped serious injury.

Circuit solicitor Keener Baxley quoted Ervin as saying he set off the explosion in an effort to frighten Mrs. Grant into withdrawing a morals charge against a 17-year-old youth accused of molesting her young daughter.

Dairy Meeting To Feature Farm Extensionists

A dairy management meeting to be held in the Bark River school and in Cornell town hall Feb. 29 was announced today by J. L. Heirman, Delta county agricultural agent.

One of the guest speakers will be Charles Little, Upper Peninsula extension dairyman of Michigan State College Experimental Farm, Chatham, who will present results of a survey of the use of grass silage and barn-dried hay in the feeding of dairy cows.

He will also discuss the advantage of laying a straw, shavings or sawdust bedding in the use of liquid manure in a barn management program.

A second guest speaker, Richard Hartwig, Upper Peninsula farm economist, will discuss methods and cost of harvesting roughage.

Since the farm labor situation is tight and is likely to become acute in 1952, Delta county farmers will be interested in a comparison of various labor-saving hay harvesting methods to be presented at the meeting.

The several steps in pasture renovation will be discussed from the standpoint of increased pasture yields in a slide-illustrated portion of Hartwig's talk.

The Bark River meeting is scheduled for 2 p. m. and the Cornell session for 8 p. m. on Feb. 29.

Escanaba Tops Liquor Sales

If sales from state stores reflect the situation accurately, there are more drinkers of hard liquor in Escanaba than any other U. P. city. A report of the Michigan Liquor Control Commission for 1951 on the dollar value of purchases at the 17 state stores in the U. P. showed Escanaba customers spent $676,716.75 for liquor in 1951.

The report is for liquor sales only from state stores and does not include beer, wine or (hard liquor) packaged goods from SDD (special designated dealer) stores. Countywide, Marquette led the U. P. in liquor purchases at state stores with $1,107,208.09, but only $509,629.80 of this amount is credited to the city of Marquette.

Compared to other U. P. counties, Menominee county is temperate. Sales at the Menominee store amounted to $242,175.94. The Menominee store serves three SDD units, two in the city and one at Stephenson. In the north end of the county three SDD stores are serviced by state stores in Escanaba and Iron Mountain.

In Mackinac county which has a population of only 9,287 compared to Menominee county's 25,299, liquor sales totaled more than $355,000. The sales were divided between a state store at St. Ignace and one on Mackinac Island. Sales at the St. Ignace store amounted to $179,064.88 and at Mackinac Island, $176,265.78.

Rotarians Told How FBI Agents Trap Saboteurs

The inside story of the FBI's successful but little known campaign against saboteurs was told here by John Reindl of Menominee, former FBI undercover agent, who spoke to the Escanaba Rotary Club at its ladies night program last night at the House of Ludington.

Reindl, a brother of Edward Reindl, Menominee sheriff, is now secretary of the Menominee Chamber of Commerce. In 1938 he entered Federal Bureau of Investigation training school, worked on confidential assignments through the early years of World War II in trapping Nazi saboteurs and Gestapo agents in the United States.

"Today the fight continues against Communism," said Reindl. "The FBI knows every Communist agent in the country—and I can assure you there are many of them."

Hardest Assignment

Reindl was introduced by Denis McGinn, Rotary Club program chairman for the evening. Rotary President Dr. Roy B. Johnson presided.

The most difficult assignment in the FBI is that as an undercover agent, Reindl said. Following his period of training and his selection as an FBI agent, Reindl was assigned to a number of jobs as undercover man—climaxed by one job that required 23 months living with Gestapo agents in their Newark, N. J., hideout.

German saboteurs attempted landings on the East Coast from submarines and were picked up on Long Island and in Florida almost before they had changed from military uniforms to civilian clothes.

Lived With Saboteurs

For 23 months Reindl, posing as a German-American youth, lived in the same house with the Nazi saboteurs. He installed microphones in every room in the house, made detailed reports—and never once was suspected by the enemy agents who would have instantly killed him had they discovered his identity.

Reindl assisted the saboteurs in erecting the antenna for their short-wave radio equipment with which they communicated with Germany. All messages were intercepted by the FBI and traps were laid for the arrival of agents sent to the U. S. by submarine.

All of the enemy agents were captured and in interviews of those who had lived with Reindl in the hideout the saboteurs defended Reindl, also taken in custody. He was "only a dumb kid," they told the FBI.

FBI Efficiency

Enemy targets in World War II included the destruction of the locks at Sault Ste. Marie, plans known in advance by the FBI through Reindl's undercover work. Logs packed with explosives and timed to go off in the locks were to be floated down the river.

Reindl praised J. Edgar Hoover, FBI chief, and his efficient organization.

The FBI knows what is going on here in the work of enemy agents and is way ahead of other countries in surveillance techniques and in crime detection, Reindl declared.

While with the FBI Reindl met the young woman who is now his wife. Her brother is chief of the New York bureau for the FBI. They were married following Reindl's retirement and his return to Menominee, where prior to 1938 he had received his first experience in law enforcement as a deputy sheriff.

RECEIVING PRESIDENCY of the Delta County Historical Society along with best wishes of out-going president Frank Bender Jr. Theodore Sohlberg (right) of Gladstone was elected new head of the organization at last night's third annual meeting.

History Of Indians In U. P. Told By Speaker

New officers were elected, an entertaining guest speaker was heard and an honorary membership was made at last night's third annual dinner meeting of the Delta County Historical Society.

Voted into office for the coming year were Theodore Sohlberg of Gladstone, president; Attorney William Anderson of Escanaba, vice president; Alfred Groos of Groos, treasurer; and Mrs. Frank Bender of Soo Hill, secretary.

Featured part on the program was a highly interesting talk on Michigan Indians by Mary Belle Shurtliff of Negaunee, a student of Indian folklore and history.

After being introduced by Past President Frank Bender Jr. of Soo Hill, Miss Shurtliff outlined the history of the three tribes of Indians who inhabited Michigan prior to its settlement by the French and English—the Potawatami, the Chippewa and the Ojibway.

Knowledge From Association

She described her own experiences with Michigan Indians in the town of her birth and girlhood, relating their modes of living and livelihood, their customs, superstitions, foods, celebrations and travel habits.

Answering a question often asked her, she declared that Indians are capable of education, pointing to many of her Indian acquaintances and friends. She gave as evidence their sense of humor, their inherent dignity and pride in their race.

She declared that Michigan Indians were not bellicose tribes but traveled out of the state on occasions to even up an old score. In their battle expeditions to neighboring and distant states they customarily brought back in captivity some of the children from the enemy tribe and raised them with their own. This accounts, she stated, for the occasional appearance in Michigan of Indians of other tribes and some of mixed tribal ancestry.

Brotherhood Honored

At the meeting, an honorary membership certificate was presented to Raymond Brotherton of Negaunee, a former Escanaba resident who has made worthy contributions to the studies of the Delta County Historical Society.

A resume of the year's activities was read by John Stoll for absent secretary Mrs. Clint Dunathan.

Before adjournment, announcement was made by Charles Follo, trustee of the Historical Society of experience in law enforcement as a deputy sheriff.

Liberalized Workmen's Compensation Pushed By Lawmakers In Lansing

LANSING — (AP) — Republican majorities in the Legislature took another step today toward liberalized workmen's compensation and unemployment compensation.

The proposals are to increase workmen's compensation $4 a week to a base of $28 and to extend unemployment compensation benefits another six weeks, to 26 weeks.

Merit Rating Changed
A House Republican caucus, which has been toying with the ideas for several weeks, met again and reported no action. But a similar Senate caucus reported "tentative approval," instructed a committee to work with a House committee on the proposals and to report back for further instructions.

In addition, the proposal would change the so-called "merit rating" now granted employers for holding down unemployment.

Instead of seeing their contributions to the unemployment fund rise as unemployment rises in poor times, the employers would be allowed to build up fund credits in lush times and pay less in bad times. This is called a "reserve account ratio."

The Senate defeated a move by Senator Perry W. Greene (R-Grand Rapids) to impose a 60-mile-an-hour speed limit on Michigan highways.

Liquor Markup Beaten
A ruling by the chair defeated a proposal to raise the state's markup on liquor from 46 per cent to 50 per cent to bring $3,000,000-plus into the state general fund.

Passed in the Senate and sent to the House was a bill establishing a uniform system of hearings and appeals for administrative agencies of state government.

The House approved bills which repeal laws requiring counties to pay expenses of prosecuting attorneys and probate judges at annual conventions of their state associations.

At the same time, the chamber defeated 14-63 a bill which would have required the counties to pay the expenses of all county officials at annual state conventions.

As a result, counties will be permitted but not required to pay convention expenses of all officials.

Private, 19, Sentenced For Life In Germany

FRANKFURT, Germany—(AP)—A U. S. court martial convicted Pvt. Walter Brown, 19-year-old Negro soldier, of raping and robbing a German woman, and sentenced him to life imprisonment.

Brown told the court written confessions presented by the prosecution were untrue and said army criminal investigation agents tricked him into writing them.

The statements, read to the court, said approach of a German couple made him give up an attempt to rape 17-year-old Erika Ludwig last Jan. 4. But that afterward he slugged, raped and robbed Mrs. Susanna Walther, 59.

The Philadelphia, Pa., soldier was a member of the U. S. Fourth division. His sentence included dishonorable discharge and forfeiture of pay. It is subject to review by higher military authorities.

Registration Deadline For City Election Is Saturday, March 8

SATURDAY, MARCH 8 is the deadline for registration for the Escanaba municipal election, City Clerk George Harvey has announced.

A by-product of the recent school bond election was a heavy registration of new voters. That is excellent as all those who registered for the first time for the school election this month also are eligible to vote in the municipal election in April.

There undoubtedly are some prospective voters, however, who are still unregistered. Perhaps they were not eligible by virtue of age or residence to vote in the school election but will be eligible for the April city election. To those people and any others not registered, we sincerely urge that they call at the city hall in the next 10 days and complete their registration.

The city election is an important election to the people of Escanaba. Four of the five council seats will be voted upon in this election. The 1952 municipal election can decide the kind of municipal government Escanaba will have for the next four years—good, bad or indifferent.

A number of extremely important civic problems confront the city and the decisions on these problems will be made by the incoming city council. As a citizen of Escanaba, you will want to play your part in good government. Start by registering for the election and plan to vote in April.

Death Chair Nearer For Rosenbergs

JULIUS AND ETHEL ROSENBERG, convicted traitors, are one step nearer the electric chair. The U. S. Court of Appeals unanimously has upheld their espionage convictions and death sentences.

Only the Supreme Court or presidential intervention can now save the Rosenbergs from paying with their lives for their infamy. The prospects are dim indeed that either of these alternatives will be favorable to them.

Even those people who oppose capital punishment in principle must recognize the crime of treason is of such magnitude that it cannot be dealt with in the same manner as other crimes. Murder, for instance, is a crime against an individual. Treason is a crime against the entire nation.

It has been said that the Korean war probably would not have resulted except for the traitorous acts of the Rosenbergs. Many thousands of persons have been killed in this war and billions of dollars spent in prosecuting the war. The crime of the Rosenbergs in selling out their country for money or for Communist inclinations or any other cause is a horrendous crime deserving of the maximum punishment.

We can be thankful that the Rosenbergs have had their days in court, their opportunity for defense. Their rights of appeal still remain. That is the American way. Certainly none of us would want that way scrapped for the Russian way of handling these things. In Russia, the Rosenberg-type traitor would be quickly shot, perhaps without trial at all. Their families likewise would be forced to slave labor, if not quick death, and all of their friends would be as ruthlessly purged.

THE CHARTER ELECTION (See Evening News)

On Wednesday of this week comes an opportunity for every voter to bring our charter down to date. The great majority in Sault Ste. Marie, we believe, favor a commission-manager form of government. With slight changes, we will continue the present charter if we vote "yes."

This city has had good government under our various managers. We have eliminated politics for the most part and we have the reputation for progressive government. One of the first cities in the Northern Peninsula to adopt a charter that is business like and saves money for the taxpayers, we have been fortunate in the personnel of our managers. No scandal has been unearthed in recent years and there has been little waste. In other words we have been getting our money's worth.

The Evening News has been acquainting the citizens with the changes in the present charter. They are minor and if any one of them does not work we can change by amendment at some future election. We think the charter commission has done a splendid job and we hope that the revised charter will be approved by a huge majority.

About all some people realize on their investments is that they shouldn't have invested.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—A secret meeting in which every housewife will be interested will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow in the Crystal Room of the Sherman Hotel in Chicago.

Present at the meeting will be representatives of the livestock industry and the big food processors, and their purpose will be to kill price controls.

"This will be a secret meeting without publicity," wrote C. B. Watson, president of the Corn Belt Livestock Feeders Association, to various meat, grain and food processors. However, this column has obtained copies of the correspondence and believes the public is entitled to know what backstage forces are working to defeat price controls.

The first confidential letter calling the meeting was mailed by the Corn Belt Livestock Feeders on Jan. 31, stating:

"Your association wants to get rid of OPS and price controls. Our association wants to get rid of OPS and price controls. Various groups within industries, such as the national livestock and meat industry conference are doing most excellent work. But this is much bigger than livestock. All branches of business should work together in a well planned fight.

"If you are willing to work with other organizations, then please attend a meeting at Chicago on Feb. 28. This will be a confidential meeting without publicity."

INFLUENCE RADIO PROGRAMS

The Livestock Breeders Association enclosed a plan of strategy headlined "OPS Must Go," which contained highly significant tips for influencing radio programs and newspapers against price controls.

"Those with radio time would be asked to invite in the representatives of other organizations when some startling bit of information would be broadcast that would bring resentment against OPS," the memo advised. "The deliberate and planned attempt would be to make it as unsavory to the public as was OPA.

"On a set, specific day, not later than April 15," the secret memo continued, "all members, north, south, east and west, would be asked to paste in their car a windshield sticker carrying the slogan of the campaign: 'Take the shackles off production—OPS must go!'

"The chairman must also see to it that letters are poured in to each member of Congress from his state, in a steady stream, all demanding that when and if the defense production act of 1950 is to be renewed, that it first must be amended to drop from that act the OPS."

The above memo, plus confidential letter, were sent out by the policy committee of the Corn Belt Livestock Feeders Association, and signed by C. B. Watson, president.

WHO'S BEHIND MOVE

Then, on Feb. 6, the livestock feeders followed up with another letter stating that the earlier response had been so enthusiastic "we have decided to go ahead with the meeting."

"It will be called to order at 10 a. m. in the Crystal Room, Hotel Sherman, Feb. 28. . . . We have no delusions that eliminating OPS will be an easy job," the letter continued. "Nevertheless we believe the right should be made in the hope that at least the Republicans will put a plank in their political platform condemning price controls."

Organizations invited to attend the Chicago meeting tomorrow include: The American Meat Institute, American National Cattlemen's Association, Associated Poultry and Egg Industries, Independent Livestock Marketing Assn., of Columbus; Indianapolis Livestock Exchange, Kansas Livestock Assn.; Milk Industry Foundation, Missouri Livestock Assn., National Association of Chain Stores, National Lamb Feeders Assn.; Western States Meat Packers Assn., and the U. S. Chamber of Commerce. A total of 125 people are expected to attend.

Note 1—It's important to remember that there are no ceiling prices on cattle, only on meat—though this, in turn, is supposed to hold down cattle prices. Under this system during World War II, OPA kept the ceiling on cattle at 12 cents a pound. Since the end of OPA, beef cattle have risen in price to between 30 and 41 cents a pound, causing ground steak to shoot up from 42 cents per pound during the war years under OPA to 98 cents in June 1950, and $1.12 in May 1951. It was at this point that OPS slapped on controls.

Note 2—The cattle feeders who conspire to end price controls are estimated by the Agriculture Department to be making a profit of $48 per head as of this year. The ten-year average profit prior to this period was $23 per head.

"Reports of My Death Were Greatly Exaggerated"

Army Chow In Korea Battle Area Compares To Typical U. S. Menu

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

PUSAN, Korea—(NEA)—Every day, sometime in the middle of the afternoon after he has carefully checked his daily shipping and stock control reports, Capt. Jacob Bornstein of New York decides just what all U. S. soldiers in Korea will eat several days hence.

A former baker, the plump genial Bornstein makes up the Army menu for the entire Korean theater. Except for the men at the front who get extra allotments of fresh eggs, fruits, vegetables and meat flown in to them, every man from private to general gets exactly the same basic chow.

"Steak is my favorite, and if it were possible I'd put it on the menu at least four times a week," Bornstein says. "However," he adds, "the menu we are now giving the men in Korea is one that no Army food expert ever thought possible before the fighting here."

He explains: "What we feed the men in the States is the best diet that money can buy. In a foreign theater our goal is to get as close to the Stateside menu as possible. The limitation, however, outside the U. S., is the amount of perishables we can get. We are getting plenty here, about one-third of all of the food. It's enough to make ours the closest thing to the U. S. menu ever achieved for an American Army outside the zone of the interior."

The men at the front, and every other place in Korea, back up this claim. And there is unanimous opinion among the men that in the way of personal needs—clothing, tobacco, shaving gear and soap—they are also the best equipped Army in history.

An inspection of the huge, crowded Quartermaster Corps section of the bustling Pusan waterfront reveals the amazing story of just why UN troops are faring so well in Korea this winter. Giant, newly-completed cold storage warehouses daily receive the hundreds of tons of perishables brought in by ship from Japan, and in some cases straight from the U. S.

Thus, trains leave Pusan for some distribution point farther north every few hours loaded with the fruit, meat, potatoes, flour, butter, salad dressing and even a proportionate amount of catsup, mustard, salt and pepper. It's all done neatly and efficiently according to a working formula.

The goal is to keep at least a 30-day supply of food ahead at all times in the Pusan warehouses. Of course, this isn't possible on some perishable items, but if something should close up the docks here permanently for any period of time, the troops would be assured of at least a month's supply of food while other points of supply could be created. On clothing and other equipment for the troops, an attempt is made to maintain a 60-day backlog.

According to Lt. Col. Shelby L. Gillette, the QM officer in charge of the dock operation, there are 44,000 separate quartermaster items in what they call the II and IV categories, other than food and petroleum. That group includes everything from razor blades to tent poles. As Col. Gillette puts it, "everything to satisfy the needs of the individual."

Newest major quartermaster item to be arriving for delivery to the front is an improved type of tent. It is packed in prefabricated wooden sections and insulated with spun glass.

LOTS OF BEEF for Army chow is unloaded at Pusan wharf, watched by eye of Capt. Jacob Bornstein, who decides just what all U. S. soldiers will eat every day in Korea.

As part of the business of fighting a war the American Army way, there are 2000 tons of office supplies moving through every couple of months. Everything from paper clips to huge filing cabinets are included in the huge area where these items are stocked.

Col. Gillette says the problem of stealing—pilferage in Army talk—has been especially serious for the QM in Pusan. And it's understandable, he says, with hundreds of tons of everything the Koreans need so desperately, stored in a crowded area where the need is worst.

He operates on the theory that the troops need it more, however, and maintains a heavy guard at all times. It also forces extremely careful supervision of the Korean workers who help handle the supplies.

For some time, Gillette explains, the most serious problem was the stealing of string from the flour sacks. The string could be secreted out easily and made excellent wicks for the Korean lamps. Unfortunately it ruined a lot of good flour.

Another knotty problem which has been neatly licked by the QM is the providing of different kinds of menus for the varied tastes of the other than U. S. troops.

Hard Work Is Restoring Greatness Of Rotterdam

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The postwar revival of the Netherlands' port city of Rotterdam is an inspiring example of determined rebuilding after war's devastation, the National Geographic Society reports.

The German bombing that leveled the center of Rotterdam on May 14, 1940—three hours after negotiations for surrender of the city had begun—was one of the horrors of the early part of World War II. Also extremely damaging was the systematic demolition of port facilities carried out by the retreating Nazis just before the end of the war in Europe.

The demolitions left much of the finest harbor equipment—cranes, loading barges, floating grain unloaders and broken dry-docks—masses of broken concrete and twisted steel.

Some of these villages were older than Rotterdam, which began in the 12th century as a tiny community on a dike along the Rotte, one of the numerous streams flowing into the network constituting the mouths of the Rhine and the Maas (Meuse).

Marshall Plan Aid

The rebuilding of Rotterdam is only one of the miracles of reconstruction achieved by the Dutch since the war. Much of the lovely island of Walcheren was flooded with sea water when the Allies were forced to bomb its dikes to flood out German defenders in October, 1944. A few months later, 50,000 acres of Wieringermeer Polder, reclaimed from the IJssel Meer, formerly the Zuider Zee, were flooded by the retreating Germans.

Energetic and resourceful Dutch engineering and labor, aided by Marshall plan materials and dollars, rebuilt the dikes of Walcheren. New processes speeded recovery of the soil from salt water damage. Because the IJssel Meer is protected by dikes and is not as saline as the sea, recovery of the water for a greater port area. Rotterdam, now a city of more than 675,000 population, has caused numerous other villages to disappear as they were absorbed by urban expansion.

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

LEAP YEAR TROUBLES—There are two classes of people who have troubles because of Leap Year: Those who are born on Leap Day (Feb. 29) and all bachelors.

Those in the first category are in the unfortunate condition of actually celebrating a birthday only once every four years. Thus Rossini, the great composer, born Feb. 29, 1792, celebrated his 18th birthday at the age of 72.

Besides losing out on birthday parties and gifts, the Leap Year babies suffer from the attention given them every four years when they do have a birthday.

People are always remarking about how old they look for their age, and newspapers take pictures of Leap Year "babies" who are actually old enough in years to have babies (Leap Year or otherwise) of their own.

BACHELORS ON THE RUN—More than tradition supports the story that Leap Year is an open season on bachelors. The Sadie Hawkins Day aspect of Leap Year has considerable basis in fact and law to warrant the ladies in their husband-hunting privilege.

In 1288 the Scottish parliament adopted a law making it legal for "lik maiden ladie, of baith high and lowe estate" to "bespake ye man she liketh" in Leap Year. The reaction of the Scot bachelor is not a matter of record.

France passed similar laws a few years later and Italy got around to it in the 15th century.

WOMEN OF COURAGE—In these days, however, it would take a woman of courage of either "high or lowe estate" to approach a bachelor with an offer of marriage.

Women have thrown off the yoke and stand revealed as equals if not the superiors of mere men. It would indeed be stooping for a 20th century woman to seek the hand of a man in marriage.

Besides there are other and far more effective ways of winning proposals—and why wait until Leap Year? So the women of today, aided by the wiles of a poodle hair cut and a course in current events, can charm their men into a marriage troth whenever they are so inclined.

As man's defenses fall before the ascending supremacy of woman there is the possibility that bachelors may appeal for protective legislation. Leap Year may yet become a respite for the pursued male, last refuge of bachelorhood, in which they will be safe from marriage at least one year out of four.

WHAT IT IS—Up to this point there may be some confusion concerning the true meaning of Leap Year, which actually has nothing to do with marriage customs.

Leap Year has 366 days, or one more than the ordinary year. Leap years occur in every year which can be divided by four—except the years which mark the even hundreds, as 1500.

Only century years which can be divided by 400 are leap years, such as 1600 and 2000. Leap years were added to the calendar to make the calendar year nearly the same as the solar year, which is the length of time required for the earth to completely circle the sun.

In this time compensating process the extra day is added to February and becomes Feb. 29 only once every four years.

MAY BE ABOLISHED—The United Nations, we hope, will in 1956 adopt the proposed World Calendar which will make Leap Day a thing of the past.

This day will be switched to June 31. Thus the calendar will have four equal quarters with an extra day at the end of the year which will be called December "W" or Worlds Day—a day dedicated to international understanding and peace.

Leap Year has largely lost its significance so far as husband-snatching is concerned anyway. The proposed new World Calendar will bring an orderly procession of days and months with each month equal in number of days and every date recurring annually on the same day of the week.

The Doctor Says . . . Slowness of Child to Speak Often Causes Parents Anxiety

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

Speech is terribly important for getting along in the world, and it is not surprising, therefore, that parents sometimes worry if their children do not learn to talk as fast or as clearly as they think they ought to.

Q—What effect does a split uvula have on a child's speech? Our little four-year-old boy is slow in talking. Sentences are now being formed but some words and sounds are not clear.

A—The uvula has very little to do with speech, and the fact that it is split can be safely ignored in this respect. Children start to talk at different ages, and at different rates, and practically none of them make clear sounds at first.

Unless there is more delay in speaking than seems indicated by the inquiry, there seems little to worry about in this little boy.

Q—My son and his family have boils continually, and I should like to know what causes them, and what would prevent them from coming.

A—Boils are caused by infections involving the skin and portions immediately beneath. They tend to come more often and are more difficult to get rid of in persons who are under par physically, either because of some disease such as diabetes, or because of less obvious physical disabilities.

They are also fairly common in people whose skin is irritated by rubbing, such as wrestlers who come in contact with the mat. Where a whole family is involved in recurring boils, medical aid should be sought in an attempt to eliminate them.

Q—I have been told I was perfectly healthy except that the womb is slightly tipped. Could such a condition prevent conception?

A—It could.

Q—I would like to know whether drinking a bottle of a cola drink every day would cause an acid condition?

A—There would be millions of us with an acid condition if this were true. There is no reason to believe that it is.

Q—What danger might there be, if any, from a fairly solid lump about egg-size, on the upper arm, where an injection had been made?

A—There is almost certainly no danger. In all probability, the injection set up a tissue reaction or irritation which resulted in a certain amount of scar or fibrous tissue, which is responsible for the present lump.

Village Moving To Cost $70,000

LANSING — (AP)—A project to move nearly the whole village of Agnew to make way for a new highway will cost some $70,000 which is relatively "small potatoes" in clearing rights-of-way, State Highway Department officials said.

The same amount of money would be needed to clear as little as 50 feet of right-of-way in Detroit for the expressways now being built, the officials said.

Moving three or four houses and buying the land they stood on in Detroit could easily cost $70,000, they said.

The Agnew project calls for moving a frame church and some eight or ten other buildings, paying for new basements and buying the land on which they stood. The school house for the village of 102 population will not have to be moved.

Harry Coons, chief deputy highway commissioner, said that there was no way to expand US-31 in the Ottawa county location to a four-lane highway other than moving most of the village.

The present highway runs close to the east of a railroad. The town nestles along the east side of the highway.

The only place to build a second roadway for the two extra lanes is east of the present highway, Coons explained.

Ex-Governor Weeps At Court Acquittal; Pretty Wife Smiles

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — (AP)—Former Gov. James E. Folsom of Alabama has been cleared of a charge of driving while intoxicated.

The 6-foot, 8-inch insurance man wept when Judge G. O. Boner acquitted him Monday after a non-jury trial in county court. His pretty brunette wife broke into a wide smile.

Folsom was arrested shortly before midnight February 8 on the highway between Birmingham and his home at Cullman. He was released in bond after spending about an hour in jail.

State Highway Patrolman L. E. Neumann testified that Folsom's car was weaving from one side of the road to the other, and that the former state official admitted he had been drinking whisky and beer.

Folsom didn't testify, but defense witnesses said he did not appear intoxicated shortly before and after his arrest.

Memorial Urged For Vandenberg

LANSING — (P)—The Michigan Senate, having refused to name one highway after the late Franklin Delano Roosevelt, is being asked to name another after the late Arthur H. Vandenberg and erect a monument to him.

State Senator Clarence A. Reid (R-Detroit) said he would propose today a "substantial" appropriation to erect a monument to Vandenberg, long-time United States Senator from Michigan and Republican foreign policy spokesman who died last year.

Reid criticized a Senate bill to designate US-16 from Detroit to Muskegon as the "Arthur H. Vandenberg Memorial Highway." Reid said that was not "fitting."

The sponsor of the highway memorial bill, Senator Perry W. Greene (R-Grand Rapids), said he would gladly accept such an appropriation to erect the monument "in the middle of US-16 in Grand Rapids." Vandenberg's home town.

On a strict partisan vote, the Senate defeated an amendment by Senator Harold M. Ryan (D-Detroit) to designate US-27 as the Franklin Delano Roosevelt Highway.

The chamber passed and sent to the House a bill designating US-31 and US-2 from Indiana to Sault Ste. Marie as the Blue Star Memorial Highway in honor of World War II veterans.

Pekin Highway Bridge Stuck 100 Feet In Air

PEKIN, ILL. — (P)—A 75-foot span of the Pekin highway bridge was stuck 100 feet above the Illinois river, forcing the re-routing of traffic into this central Illinois community of 20,000.

State highway engineers said a gear shaft and collar of the bridge was broken. The span would be stuck at least a week, the engineers said.

George Risinger, 71, a bridge-tender, raised the span at noon yesterday to let a boat pass. He couldn't get it down. The bridge-tender's cab is attached to the span and for several hours Risinger stayed inside trying to work the machinery to get the balky span back.

Price Above Ceiling Assured For Copper From White Pine Co.

WASHINGTON — (P)—The government has agreed to buy copper from a new mine in northern Michigan under a contract containing an escalator clause.

Rep. Bennett (R-Mich) disclosed terms of a government contract completed in Boston with the White Pine Copper Co., a subsidiary of the Copper Range Co.

Morris La Croix, president of both companies, informed Bennet construction of a town at the project site in northern Michigan's Ontonagon county will begin immediately.

Development of the ore body, one of the largest in North America, will be financed by a $7 million dollar loan by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. It is the biggest RFC loan since World War II.

Under the contract, Bennett said the government agrees to buy 243,750 short tons of copper produced by White Pine over a 10-year period.

The basic price will be 25½ cents a pound, one cent above the present ceiling for the red metal.

The contract contains an escalator clause under which the price could be adjusted up or down according to fluctuations in the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics cost of living index.

Geographic Survey Finds New Comet

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The National Geographic Society announces the discovery of a new comet in the constellation Virgo.

The new heavenly wanderer was first seen on a photographic plate exposed on Palomar Mountain, California, on the night of January 30, 1952. Its light was captured by the great 48-inch Schmidt telescope, operated by California Institute of Technology Astronomer Robert Harrington.

The comet is of the 15th magnitude. Its tail is about five minutes of arc long. On the night of discovery the comet's position was right ascension, 12 hours, 33.4 minutes; declination, plus 11 degrees, 36.4 minutes. Its daily motion is 30 seconds east and 13.8 minutes north.

The new comet is the fifth discovered in the last two years by the National Geographic Society-Palomar Observatory Sky Survey a four-year project to explore the entire sky visible from Palomar out to a distance of 350 million light-years.

Navy Reports 11 Men Wounded By Red Fire Aboard US Destroyer

WASHINGTON — (P)—The Navy reported that 11 men were wounded aboard the destroyer Shelton Feb. 22 by Communist shore fire.

The destroyer, then off the northeast coast of Korea, received three direct hits; two enemy shells burst directly over the fantail.

One of the direct hits tore a hole, three feet by four feet, at the water line, causing one compartment to be partly flooded.

The Shelton retired to a base in Japan after the action, which occurred during the previously reported repulse of an enemy attempt to land on a small island near Songjin.

Three of the 11 wounded were described as seriously hurt. The Navy did not disclose any names.

Issue Warning On Measles

Measles is being reported at the rate of 700 cases weekly in Michigan, and the state is in for a "measles year," it is reported by Alger-Schoolcraft Health Department.

The disease, one of the most highly communicable of all the so-called children's diseases, is already reaching epidemic proportions in some southeastern sections of the state and is spreading rapidly to other areas, the department advises.

Measles is especially dangerous to young children under six years, and the department advises parents to be on the alert for cases in their neighborhood and to watch especially for symptoms in their older children so they will know if the young child is exposed.

Call Doctor At Once—If a young child is exposed, call your doctor at once, the local health department warns.

Because of the threat of complications and even death from measles in younger children, the department recommends modification of the disease in all children who are not well and strong.

Physicians have a serum-immune serum globulin to modify or prevent measles, but success depends upon the parent knowing the approximate time of exposure, the department states.

To prevent measles, the serum must be given immediately after exposure. To modify the disease, the serum must be given on the fifth or sixth day following exposure.

Defer Action On Social Security

Employee approval of city participation in social security will be obtained before definite action is taken, it was decided at a regular meeting of the City Council Monday night.

Decision to poll city workers, both hourly and salaried employees, was made following a report by City Attorney William Hood on a recent social security conference. Hood told councilmen that emergency employees should not be included in the program and said that council members would automatically be excluded because of the small remuneration paid for their services.

The city proposes to make participation in the social security program retroactive to Jan. 1, 1951, so that several employees reaching the retirement age of 65 could be included in benefits.

Further information on the city's water program is expected at the March 10 meeting of the council, City Manager H. W. Heideman reported. He told councilmen that he had been so notified by George W. Francis, of the Francis Engineering Company, Saginaw.

An increase of property damage coverage to $10,000 and public liability to $50,000 and $100,000 was approved by the city board.

A proposed smoke ordinance was discussed and the city manager was instructed to notify Mrs. Louise Welch, 306 Chippewa Ave., of the steps necessary to submit such an ordinance proposition to city electors at the biennial election April 7.

A report of the Schoolcraft County Department of Social Welfare, read at the meeting, revealed that direct relief in Manistique during January amounted to $1,437.30.

LUDINGTON BUY-LINES

by Sue Donimus

A WARY girl friend of mine defines a gentleman as a wolf with the lights on! Lots of fellows would like to be in the dark with Harriet Hubbard Ayer's new lipstick, but I hope you girls aren't in the dark about it! It's Mint Red—a beautifully clear bright red with a soothing, frosty mint flavoring! Comes also in Mint Rose—a pretty pink shade. At Gust Asp's you can get these mint sticks for just $1.25 plus tax. Refresh yourself with these Ayer-fad, indelible lipsticks. You show good taste when you choose Mint Red or Mint Pink. Just ask Gust Asp—he sure mint well!

"ARE you a man or a mouse?" "A man! My wife's afraid of mice!" Ever since the women around town have set eyes on that 1952 Studebaker they just won't leave their men alone till they have them selves a ride in one. Mostly they judge the car by it's sleek appearance and the striking upholstery job. They'd really insist on Studebaker for the family car if they knew about that high powered engine, that amazing mileage, that super smooth ride! Pop won't really object much when you bring him around to Petersen and Jacobson Auto Service. He's really hoping you'll insist on Studebaker!

I LIKE the announcement some of our friends sent out to announce the birth of a baby girl—"We're skirting the issue!" At the Fair Store they're issuing a skirt—a marvelous quilted skirt in various patterns and materials. They made a real buy and can offer values to $10.95 for just $5.95! Some are done in sturdy denim—brown, yellow, mint, pink. A flamingo sateen is quilted in black. There are also gay cotton plaids. A few prints at $4.95. Cut on a complete circle, the skirts have real flair! So join the quilting party—the Fair will have you going around in the best circles!

WEE' WILLIE WINKLER Runs thru the town Adding and subtracting To pull your taxes down. Knocking off deductions, Crying at your door, "Are you having any trouble?" You don't need to any more! If you can use an excellent accountant before March 15th, make an appointment with William Winkler soon. Bill makes those income tax figures sit up and dance! *(Poetic license!)

"DON'T like women," says my Uncle Ed. "They're too biased." "In what way," I asked. "Ah, it's always 'bias this' and 'bias that'!" I'll admit I have pretty strong inclinations—especially when we start talking house plans. "Bias all the lumber and supplies from the Stephenson Lumber Company," I always say. Friend husband is sort of prejudiced in that direction, too. At Stephenson's we can count on quality building supplies that mean so much to the proper construction of a home. Hope you have a bias toward Stephenson's yourself. It's a slant in the right direction!

FEELING like a million these days, and my sole support is cushion crepe! You're walking on air when you wear these down to earth cushion crepe-soled shoes from the Peterson Shoe Store. Attractively styled in the peak of fashion; attractively priced to cushion any shock on the bill-fold! One style in black suede features bright colored laces. Comes also in red and brown. A cushion crepe-soled loafer is smart in shades of wheat, green or brown. If you like to walk with a spring in your step, play footie with Spring in these very new shoes. Stop in at Peterson's soon—with your sole reason, cushion crepes!

I SUPPOSE you could call the Nile River, Juve-niles! (When the groaning ceases, I'll go on!) Have you seen the new shipment of Spring coats at Lauerman's for the juveniles? My prediction is that they'll be a big attributing factor toward a happy Spring for lots of lassies. There are clever little styles fashioned from poodle cloth, flannel and crease resistant rayons. Sizes 2 to 14, and juniors 9 to 14. Lauerman's will also see that the small fry are well suited. Chic little checks in navy, and pastels took my eye. One navy skirt is topped with a navy and white checked jacket. Sizes 10 and 12. Oh, to be young again—and shop at Lauerman's!

IF you have no time for pressing business, the adorable nylon dresses at Penney's are for you! These precious puckered nylon frocks can be washed out, dried in a jiffy, and never need to see an iron. They're not board and neither are you! I especially liked the two piece dress, and another one with gathered skirt and unusual double collar. Lush colors of flamingo, yellow, turquoise, purple and navy. Sizes 12 to 20 and 14 1/2 to 24 1/2. Priced at a tiny $12.75. Puckered nylon—a real Spring fashion at Penney's. Pucker up, honey!

Letter To The Editor

OPPOSES SEAWAY

Dear Editor:

Referring to your editorial regarding the St. Lawrence Waterway project.

This is a big problem and I do not know anything about it's advantages or disadvantages from a National standpoint.

Being a resident of Escanaba and interested in the future of Escanaba, I speak from a selfish viewpoint. Will Escanaba benefit from it?

Do you believe Pat Hayes is going to order a boat load of pork chops or the Delta Hardware will order a boat load of skis or the Fair Store will order a boat load of diapers for a dwindling population in Escanaba, if this project goes through, each merchant would have a problem selling a row boat of merchandise.

Today the men in our wood lots are busy getting out wood for our pulp mills, which makes work for them as well as for truckers and railroad men, who spend their money here. The farmers along the Soo Line remember a few years back when they couldn't sell a piece of pulpwood, and trainloads were passing their door each day coming from Canada to our mills, because we couldn't compete on account of labor costs.

Your article states every city on the Great Lakes will benefit. I do not agree, in my judgement the only cities that will benefit are the ones that have direct rail connections to the West. Duluth, Green Bay, Milwaukee, and Chicago would benefit.

The only cities on our Eastern seaboard that are shipping centers are the ones that have direct railroad lines to the West.

Our industries could ship to foreign markets direct, but have you thought of how many in Escanaba would be unemployed on this account, it would employ a few foreign sailors. We are giving them our money now. Let us keep our jobs.

No boat is going to stop at the Soo or Manistique to unload, both cities have direct rail connection West, because the boat can go a few miles farther to Green Bay and save the rail charges.

The large number of carloads of pulp wood now handled by trucks and railroads will be a thing of the past.

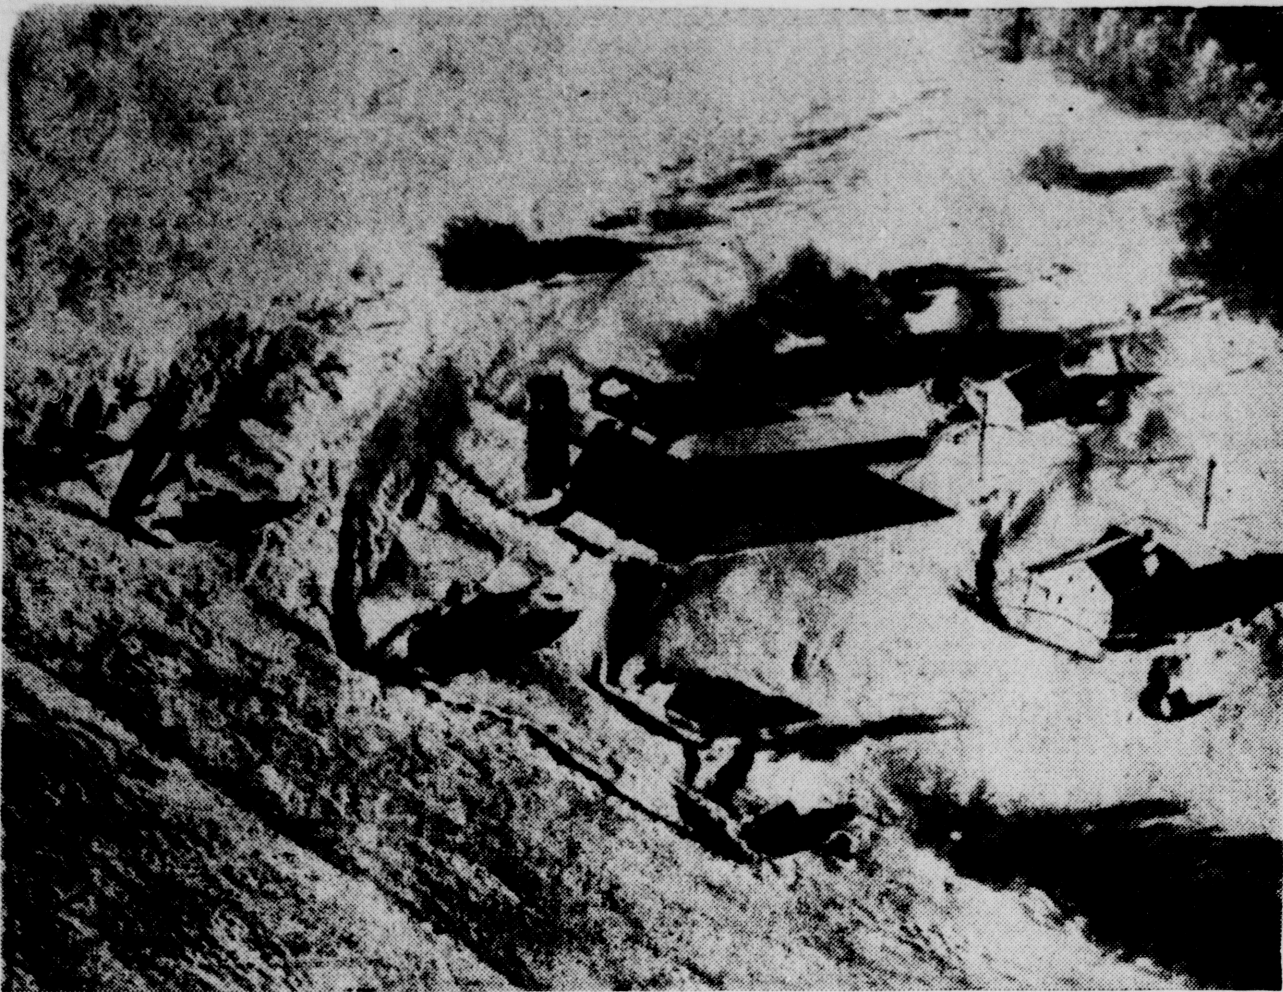

The development of iron ore in Eastern Canada is now a threat to our ore business. Ore docks can be erected on the St. Lawrence River and the mileage to Ohio unloading ports would be less than from Escanaba to the Ohio unloading ports.

Personally, give me Escanaba as I know it, rather than a ghost town, when the St. Lawrence Waterway is established.

Very truly yours,
George Harvey Sr.

Americans Increased Their Debts In 1951

The American people last year again added to their debts more than they did to their cash assets, the Institute of Life Insurance reported today based on preliminary Government estimates of individual ownership of liquid assets and total personal debts at the end of 1951.

This occurred despite the fact that credit terms were stiffer in 1951 and individual savings in the aggregate showed a decided increase over previous years, the Institute said. It marked the sixth year in a row in which total individual debts have risen faster than the total of personal cash assets, the Institute stated.

These cash assets—the principal assets of individuals which are most readily available or convertible for use—are defined by the Federal Reserve System as consisting of currency, bank deposits (both checking and savings), U. S. Government securities, and savings and loan shares.

Debts Up $5 Billions

"Personal holdings of such assets increased by an estimated $6 billions in 1951 to reach a total of approximately $161.5 billions at the year-end," the Institute said.

"At the same time, personal debts are estimated to have increased by more than $8 billions during 1951. Thus, personal debt expansion exceeded the increase in the total cash assets of individuals by some $2 billions last year. The principal forms of personal debt are non-farm home mortgages, consumer credit, agricultural mortgage and non-real estate debt (excluding Commodity Credit Corporation loans), and life insurance policy loans.

Americans Increased Their Debts In 1951

"For the six-year period, from the end of World War II through the close of 1951, the total of personal debts showed a record increase of more than $55 billions, rising from $34.8 billions at the end of 1945 to an estimated $90.0 billions in 1951. In contrast, total individual holdings of liquid assets increased by only approximately $23 billions in this period, rising from $138.6 billions at the end of 1945 to an estimated $61.5 billions at the close of last year.

"The figures thus show that the people as a whole expanded their debts more than twice as fast as their cash assets since the end of World War II. This is the reverse of what happened during the war period itself. Between 1939 and the end of 1945, individual ownership of liquid assets increased by more than $93 billions while personal debts in the aggregate were actually reduced by $3 billions; but this, of course, was in large part due to the shortages of the war-time period.

"Measured by the relationship between individual cash assets and aggregate personal debts, the trend of the last few years has brought a substantial decline in personal liquidity from the ratio which prevailed at the end of World War II. At the close of 1945, people in the aggregate owed only about 25 cents for every dollar of their cash assets. By the end of 1951, this ratio had gone up to around 55 cents in debts for every dollar of combined personal cash assets.

"It is true that the present personal liquidity ratio is considerably better than it was at the outbreak of the Second World War. In 1939 and 1940, for example, the people as a whole owed 84 cents for every dollar of their cash assets. Then, too, average incomes have never been as high as they are today.

Long Term Savings

"Furthermore, many more people than before now have substantial amounts of long-term savings like life insurance, and other assets that they can fall back upon in an extreme emergency. Policyholders' equities behind their life insurance policies, for example, have increased by about $34 billions since 1939 to a current total of $57 billions.

"Nonetheless, conditions are radically different in many ways today than they were a decade or so ago, what with the uncertainties at home and abroad, the high level of living costs, and the record burden of direct and indirect taxation now borne by the average individual and family. Nor has the threat of further inflation inherent in the magnitude of the defense program and the level of over-all Government

Waste, Solon Charges

WASHINGTON — (P) — Rep.
Hebert (D-La) charges that a "gigantic and colossal propanaganda machine" of the armed forces has turned on "all the faucets" in an attempt to explain away his committee's "expose of waste in the military."

He called on the defense department Monday to turn over to the House Armed Services committee "the name and salary paid each civilian press agent, ghost writer and public relations expert and for whom and under whose direction the individual works."

Hebert, a former New Orleans newspaper editor, said, "straw men are being built up, phony issues are being raised and an all-but effort is being made to explain away that which does not lend itself to logical and sensible explanation."

Hebert predicted "personal attacks" on members of the subcommittee.

Jackson Cab Driver Helps Bring Baby; Turns Down Big Tip

JACKSON, Mich.—(AP) — Cab driver Dorothy Whitmore refused a tip from a fare, but she may have a baby named after her.

The cab driver responded to a rush call from Mrs. Neva Butcher, 38, who wanted to get to Mercy hospital fast. They didn't quite make it.

En route a seven pound, 11 ounce daughter was born to Mrs. Butcher, a resident of Phoenix, Ariz., visiting here. At the hospital, mother and daughter were reported doing very well.

Cab driver Dorothy said the mother handed her a large bill as a tip. She said she replied: "Thanks, but I don't want it. Maybe you can name the baby after me."

In This Corner

With Roy Crandall

We learned yesterday (unofficially) after press time that Wayne Tunnell, Manistiquie's heavy-punching lightweight Golden Gloves champion, had been disqualified for the Chicago Tournament of Champions because of his leg which was crippled by polio years ago . . . If it's true that the Chicago tournament doctor refused to pass Tunnell in his physical exam all we can say is that he made a big mistake . . . Wayne is as capable of handling himself in the ring as anyone we've ever seen with a pair of gloves on.

Before the Milwaukee Journal Golden Gloves finals Wayne told us that this would be his final year of boxing, win or lose . . . As it turned out, he hit the jackpot in reaching the Chicago Tournament of Champions—the aim of thousands of amateur boxers from all over the United States . . . It was a tough break to be washed out after working for so long to reach his goal . . . We wonder what the Chicago officials would have thought if they'd seen Tunnell score a six-second knockout with one booming right hand in the Milwaukee semifinals.

Rodman's Foxes of Hermansville, outstanding independent cage unit, will be on the air Thursday night . . . The Foxes will play the Wausau Engdohls at 11 p. m. at Columbus Club gym in Green Bay in the fifth annual Radio Station WBAY invitational basketball tourney . . . The game will be broadcast by WBAY.

The Trojans of St. Joe have thrice this season set new school scoring records in basketball . . . First they hit 84 points against Gladstone, then they upped it to 85 against Bark River . . . And last week they notched 88 against Baraga of Marquette . . . That St. Joe-Baraga score (88-73) is second only to Mass-Trout Creek (100-72) in the all-time high scoring department as far as we know.

Hockey, Not Hookey, Is On U. P. Prison Program

By JIM TRETHEWAY

MARQUETTE, Mich.—(P)—It may be unique in this country, but the idea of playing hockey in prisons—with sticks, mind you—isn't an innovation.

When the "OK" was given for inmates to use hockey sticks here, everyone thought this was the first prison to allow regulation hockey to be played inside the walls," says the Weekly Progress, Marquette, Mich., prison newspaper.

"But after a year of research on the subject, we find that this isn't true. Canadian pens (that's the colloquial word for penal institutions) have had inmate teams battling outside competition for a number of years. The cons are selected by professional players who are hired to teach pen skaters all the fine points of the game. Only the best skaters and men who have played hockey before being sent up are selected to represent the various pens in all games."

Some Join Leagues

It hasn't happened to the Marquette prison team yet, but Canadian prison sextets compete in semi-pro leagues and engage in "home-and-home" series. As far as this Upper Peninsula institution is concerned, there's little hope of becoming a member of the Northern Michigan League. Mostly, inmate teams compete against each other, with now and then the Marquette Sentinels putting in an appearance for an intra-squad exhibition game.

Just this past weekend, the Junior Sentinels—a team of teenagers in the Marquette Junior Hockey League—met and defeated the prison team by a 12-2 score.

Given Hockey Sticks

While the hockey program here is far from being as advanced as it is in Canada, Marquette inmates are convinced they have several players who, "with a little more schooling in the art of passing and puck handling, should give good accounts of themselves if ever they are given a chance to prove their worth with an independent team."

They point to the example set in Canada, where, according to the Weekly Progress, many of the prisoners become such good players that after their release they are signed up by outside coaches in various parts of the domain.

"Their prison training is equal to that received at one of the National League's farm teams," the Marquette prison publication says.

Impetus was given the hockey program here recently when Jack Adams, manager of the Detroit Red Wings, sent a dozen hockey sticks and pucks to Warden Emery E. Jacques for use by inmates.

Art Houtteman Picks Tiger Uniform No. 21

LAKELAND, Fla.—(P)—One of the key men in the Detroit Tigers' 1952 plans picked his key number today and donned a uniform with a big 21 on the back.

Pitcher Art Houtteman decided on that number—passing over others he has worn in several seasons' service with the Tigers—because it was the one given him when he broke into the American League with Detroit in 1945.

"I feel like I'm breaking in all over again," explained the right-hander who won 19 games in 1950 and was much missed last season while he was in the Army.

Is Superstitious

Houtteman, optimistic about his chances for a good season, admitted he was a bit superstitious about that No. 21. When he lost it, in 1946, he won only two games, and early in 1947 he was in an auto accident that nearly cost him his life.

Furthermore, he said, George Kell wore the 21 for several seasons but changed to No. 7 last year, saying he figured he had all the base hits out of 21.

"So how can a pitcher go wrong, if he wears it," Houtteman asked. Superstition aside, Houtteman reported he was in good physical shape as he and other Tiger battersmen concentrated on early drills.

So far the weather and the influenza bug have been most uncooperative at Bengal camp. Rain and cloudy weather have kept down practicing hours, and three Tigers—outfielder Vic Wertz, pitcher Virgil Trucks and unsigned infielder Jerry Priddy—have been knocked for a loop by the flu.

Batts Working Hard
Catcher Matt Batts, who could be another pretty important factor in the Tiger picture, went at his drill work with the enthusiasm of a man well satisfied with his new job.

Batts came to Detroit a couple of weeks ago in a five-player trade with St. Louis, and hopes to land the No. 1 catching job. He wore the Boston Red Sox uniform until being dealt off to the Browns last year.

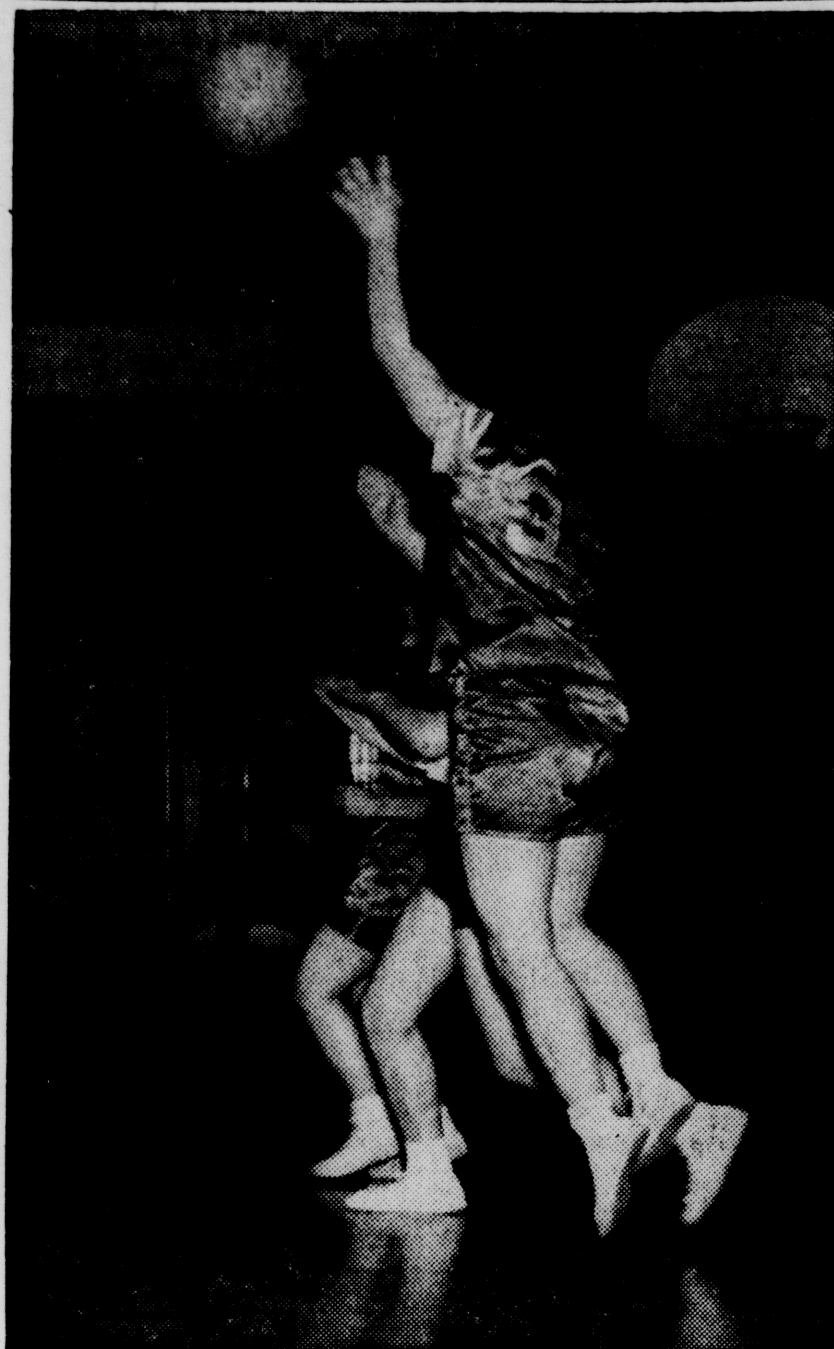

"All winter I've been hoping I'd get traded to Detroit," said the 28-year-old resident of San Antonio, Tex.

"I felt pretty bad when the Red Sox let me go," he explained. "Sort of insulted. But maybe it was the break I was waiting for."

"In Boston, I was in the back-ground to Birdie Tebbetts most of the time. When he went, they decided they wanted a ready-made ballplayer, and got Less Moss of St. Louis for me."

"When I went over to the Browns, I hit about 407 against the Red Sox. It was a wonderful feeling, but it would be even better to do it with this club."

The Tigers agree.

MARGIE RADEMACHER, forward on the St. Joe girls basketball team, lets fly for a two-pointer as the local team polishes off Gladstone 45-21 here Sunday night. Margie scored 16 points to share evening's scoring honors with team mate Sue Brunelle. The dead-eye St. Joe cager has led Coach Doris Costley's team in scoring in most games this season. ## Wells Cops 3-2 Hockey Victory

Wells Service Club edged the Southside Spartans 3-2 last night in a Juvenile Hockey league clash with John Bakran scoring twice for the winners.

Bakran registered unassisted to open scoring in the first period and then added his second goal off a pass by George Michich. Before the Spartans could find the range they found themselves three goals behind when Dick Deldo dented the net on a pass from Mike Acker.

The Spartans fought back in the second period and scored on a pair of solos. Jerome Doucette and James Barkow scored unassisted to narrow the gap to 3-2.

There was no scoring in a tight third period.

Manager Robert Grabowski announced today that for the remainder of the season all Junior and Juvenile league games will be played at the fairgrounds indoor rink.

Dube Betters Time Each Night On Ice

Pete Dube, the 73-year old speed skating star of the Escanaba ice revue, turned in faster performances for the half mile exhibition in each of his appearances at the five-day ice show.

On Wednesday, opening night, Dube's time for the half mile was 1:32. Thursday he registered 1:30 and Friday he produced a speed of 1:19 4/5 seconds. Saturday Dube's time was a flat 1:19 and on Sunday afternoon, the final performance, the veteran speedster turned in a fast 1:18 performance.

Some Of Brightest Stars Will Be Missing At Spring Baseball Camps

NEW YORK — (P)—Baseball's spring training camps will not look quite the same when they officially open Saturday—missing will be some of the game's brightest stars.

Familiar faces that will not be on hand when the gong sounds include Joe DiMaggio, Charley Keller, Tommy Henrich and Ted Williams.

DiMaggio, Keller and Henrich, the great New York Yankee outfield of the early 1940's, all have retired. DiMaggio hung up his glove at the end of last season. Keller drew his unconditional release from Detroit and Henrich resigned as a Yankee coach.

Doerr Through
Williams, recalled by the Marine Corps, hasn't decided whether to play with the Boston Red Sox until he reports for duty.

Also missing from the Red Sox camp is Bobby Doerr. The great second baseman called it a career

NAHMA—First undefeated season in history will be the aim of Coach Harold "Babe" Anderson's Nahma Arrows when they entertain the Rapid River Rockets Thursday night.

Nahma will be shooting for its 17th straight victory of the current cage campaign. Victims of the Arrows to date have been Cooks, Hermansville, Powers, Rock, Perkins, Rapid River, Grand Marais, Bark River, Trenary and Eben, most of them falling twice to the Nahma quint.

In their previous meeting this season the Arrows decided Coach Norman Slough's Rapid River Rockets by a 53-46 count. The Arrows had only one closer game all season—a 65-60 margin over Trenary.

Selling Loses On Decision In Golden Gloves Tournament

Francis Selling, Manistiquie welterweight representing Milwaukee in the Chicago Tournament of Champions, lost his opening round Golden Gloves bout last night by a decision in three rounds. Details were unavailable today at noon.

Wings Need Three Wins To Insure NHL Championship

BOSTON — (P)—The fancy-stepping Detroit Red Wings are within three victories of clinching their fourth straight National Hockey League pennant.

The Wings edged the Boston Bruins, 4-3, last night to pull 19 points ahead of the runner-up Montreal Canadiens. The Wings have 12 games left to play and three victories will give them the flag.

Gordie Howe, the league's leading scorer, scored twice to win the game for the Wings. The goals were Howe's 36th and 37th of the season. Howe broke a 3-3 tie with his second goal of game, which came with less than two minutes of play remaining.

The game was played in the Boston Arena. It was the first league game played there in 24 years. The game was shifted from the Boston Garden after a broken brine pipe put the Garden's ice-making plant out of commission.

The loss dealt Boston's playoff hopes a severe blow. The Bruins trail the fourth place New York Rangers by three points.

Hawks Entertain Calumet Tonight

Hockey returns to the Escanaba fairgrounds indoor rink tonight after a brief absence due to the ice show and a capacity crowd is expected to watch the Hawks take on Calumet in a Northern Michigan League clash starting at 8:30.

The Escanaba icers will be shooting for victory over the same team they blanked 6-0 here in their last meeting on home ice. It was the first shutout for the Hawks in two seasons of Northern Michigan League play.

Confident they can do it again, the Hawks are sharpened for tonight's encounter and have a full-strength squad on hand. Only missing face in the regular lineup will be Ben Artwich, rugged goalie who is a patient at the Iron Mountain Veterans hospital. In his place will be young Leon Mileski who has filled in for Artwich in recent Hawk games.

No Sitting Ducks

The Radars will be no sitting ducks for Escanaba, however, and the Calumet crew headed by veteran defenseman Don Nichol is expected to be loaded for bear. Calumet has clinched second place in the standings but cannot catch the front-running Portage Lake Pioneers who wrapped up the championship last night by beating Marquette 9 to 3 at Houghton.

Marquette's loss temporarily put the Hawks in third place in the standings. A win over Calumet tonight would set the stage for a rousing battle with the Sentinels here Friday night.

Expected here with the Radars tonight are Goalie Frank Sotlich, Whitey Juopperi, Flash Kesanon, Mort Winimaki, John Dahlgren, Merv Paulson, Clayton Maanin, Merv Makolin, Bernie Juopperi, Dave Moyle, Pete Lehto and

Michigan Tech Closes Season With 78 To 53 Edge Over Northern

HOUGHTON, Mich. — (P)—Michigan Tech brought a losing basketball season to a close last night by winning a 78-53 decision from Northern Michigan.

Tech forward Charley Hein, the game's top scorer, set the team tempo as he made nine of his 17 points in the final quarter to help the Huskies pull away. The two teams had been fairly even up to the three-quarter mark, with Tech holding a 54-43 halftime edge.

The home team finished the year with five victories and 10 defeats.

Army Corporal Punching Hard In Golden Gloves

CHICAGO — (P)—Dick Jones, the hard-punching Corporal from Fort Custer, is pounding his way through Golden Gloves competition here in record time.

The young soldier needed a total of only two minutes and three seconds last night to dispose of his first two opponents in the lightweight division.

Both Jim Dover of Gary, Ind., Jones' first-round rival, and Carroll Gilchrist of Memphis, Tenn., who survived one round before getting to the Fort Custer slugger, were flat on the canvas when he finished with them.

Two Kayoes

Dover lasted only 30 seconds before he hit Jones with a left and got in return a crushing knockout left hook to the jaw.

Gilchrist did better, but Jones' deadly one-two combination crumpled him at 1:33.

Three other Michigan boys came safely through two rounds last night.

Grand Rapids' Johnny Gillespie, 147 pounds, dished out Carl Bowden of Terre Haute, Ind., and Chick Kennedy of Zanesville, O.

Charles Coleman, 160-pound Detroit, scored a technical knockout over Donnie Ward of Oklahoma City in two rounds and then administered similar treatment for Sterling Williams of Louisville.

Herb Ellison of Detroit, fighting in the heavyweight class, beat Jackie MacPherson of Oklahoma City by decision in the first round. In the second round, he eliminated a Grand Rapids fighter, Paul Rivers, by the TKO route. Rivers had knocked out his first opponent, George Harrison of Columbus, in round one.

Tie For Lead

T. W. Wilson of Detroit, 147-pounder, started by decisioning Charlie Smith of Minneapolis, but was bested later by Henry White of Cincinnati.

Only one member of the Michigan contingent failed to survive the first round of fighting. Paul Wright of Grand Rapids lost out in his opener to Carl Blair of Great Lakes.

After the first two nights of preliminary battling, Los Angeles and Nashville, Tenn., were tied for first with 12 points each.

Wayne Lehto in addition to Nichol, team captain.

Tonight marks the next to the last home appearance for the Hawks this season. They face Marquette here Friday and then close the season at Houghton Sunday.

CINCH TITLE

HOUGHTON — The Portage Lake Pioneers rode into first place for keeps last night as they defeated the Marquette Sentinels for the fourth straight time on Dee Stadium ice. Houghton had practically corralled the top spot in the Upper Peninsula league most of the season but last night's victory was the clincher.

Despite the lopsided score, 9 to 3, Marquette really put up a battle all the way. In fact at the outset they surprised the Pioneers by driving in to score after breaking up a Portage attack with Vasseau scoring. Juntunen made the first Portage score, Tony Bukovich netted the second, Bernie Ruelle made it No. 3 for the Pioneers and Mike Bukovich drove in the fourth on a pass from brothers Tony and Joe.

The Pioneers went to town in the last canto when everybody got into the act, but Marquette kept fighting and Roy Olson made it No. 3 for the visitors.

Four penalties were handed out with a major called on O'Brien and Swenor for fighting.

In a collision in the second period, Bucky O'Neil, Sentinel wingman, was severely injured, receiving a bad head wound, and was carried from the ice.

Boxing Program Is Set For Manistique Saturday Night

Amateur leather-pushers from Manistique and Menominee-Marquette will toss punches in an inter-city match at the new gymnasium at Manistique High school Saturday night.

An attractive program of 11 bouts has been lined up. Highlighting the card will be a windup affair matching Manistique's open division welterweight champion, Francis Selling, against Ken Campbell of the Menominee team.

Selling, unopposed in the Upper Peninsula tournament at Escanaba, won the Wisconsin championship in the Milwaukee Journal tournament on Feb. 12 by winning two bouts, one on a decision and one on a first-round knockout. Campbell is a newcomer to Upper Peninsula boxing. He hails from the East coast where he had Golden Gloves experience and he was undefeated while boxing in the United States Marine Corp.

TICKETS HERE

Tickets for the boxing match in Manistique Saturday night are available here at Gust Asps. The program is under the auspices of the Manistique C.Y.O. and under the direction of Rev. George Pernaski.

Campbell is regarded by his trainer, Leo Legacy, as the outstanding fighter on his team. He is employed in Marinette as a taxicab driver.

Fighting the semi-windup will be another Manistique Golden Gloves champion, Harvard Lancelot, U. P. and Milwaukee novice lightweight titlist, will take on Menominee's Jim Meissner, classy semi-finalist in the U. P. tournament.

Menominee's novice 112 pound champion, Jim McDonald, will fight Orville Belanger of Manistique who won the U. P. 118 pound title here last month.

"Good Fight Town"

Boxers of both teams have been working out for several months and are in good condition to go the three-round limit. Trainer Legacy said his "boys have really been training for this one and are set to go all out to win the match."

Legacy complimented the Manistique boxing organization and said that good clean sportsmanship is always evident in the matches there. "It's the finest fight town we hit on our annual tour which takes us to 10 different cities," he said.

The two teams hooked up in an inter-city match last year and came out deadlocked with two wins each. Remainder of the bouts last year were exhibitions.

Ed Toyra, Manistique trainer whose fighters led the Upper Peninsula team to the open division championship in the Milwaukee tournament, is expected back from Chicago late this week. He accompanied Wayne Tuffnell, lightweight champion, and Selling to the Tournament of Champions at Chicagoo Stadium.

Complete Card

HIGH ON HEARN

PHOENIX, Ariz.—(P)—Manager Leo Durocher of the New York Giants is expecting great things from Pitcher Jim Hearn this season.

"Jim may surprise you and become the greatest pitcher on this team," Durocher said today.

"Last year he was jumpy and uncertain at first. You know how he started in September and in the playoffs and in the World Series. He's a different man. Hearn stands very close now to the great pitcher category."

QUESTION MARKS

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla.—(P)—New York Yankee question marks, pitcher Vic Raschi and outfielder Mickey Mantle, have started light workouts.

Mantle ran a bit yesterday and put some pressure on the leg he injured in the second game of the World Series. He felt no ill effects.

Raschi, who had a cartilage removed from his knee, threw exceptionally hard and also felt no pain.

REACH TERMS

CLEARWATER, Fla.—(P)—The Philadelphia Phillies have three of their four front line moundmen under terms for the 1952 season following an agreement with Robin Roberts.

The star righthander, best in the club's history since Grover Cleveland Alexander, was understood to have reached terms yesterday with club President Bob Carpenter. It was believed Roberts will be paid about $30,000 for the season, making him the highest paid man on the team.

Of the Phillies best pitchers—Roberts, Russ Meyer, Bubba Church and Jim Konstanty—only reliever Konstanty, winner of the National League's 1950 most valuable player award, remains outside the fold.

PAY FINES

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla.—(P)—Rain which limited the Philadelphia Athletics to a 20 minute workout yesterday cost four men in camp penalties consisting of two fish and three boxes of cigars.

Because of the weather the abbreviated workout began at noon instead of at 10 a. m. as usual. Coach Chief Bender, pitcher Bob Hooper, catcher Joe Astroth and rookie pitcher Tom McGroarty failed to show up.

Manager Jimmy Dykes "fined" Bender "two of the best fish from your next catch" and each of the others a box of cigars.

Ailing McMillin Shows Courage

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—(P)—Courage is the keynote of the great athlete, and Bo McMillin, former coach of the Detroit Lions, has plenty of it.

After leaving Detroit, McMillin took over as head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Professional League.

Last fall he became ill and resigned his post.

McMillin is on the "critical" list in a Bloomington, Ind., hospital suffering from a stomach ailment believed to be incurable.

But yesterday, in a letter disclosed by his former coach, Robert L. (Chief) Myers, he said, "I can still remember from boyhood your instructions were to fight until the last whistle blew, xxx rugged as it is, I plan on doing just that."

Myers, Trinity University athletic publicity director, remembers Bo as his quarterback and field general when he coached North Side High School of Fort Worth, Tex., to the state championship in 1914.

Recalling Bo as the little guy who used to tackle with a wrestling hold, Myers added, "I'd rather have him on my team than anybody who was ever connected with football."

They were paroled by general session Judge Saul S. Streit until March 28, when they will be sentenced.

The three were permitted to plead to a conspiracy charge, a misdemeanor.

Harvard broke a 10-game losing streak last night by whipping Boston University, 54-48.

The largest turnout ever to see a basketball game in Mississippi—5,000—watched Mississippi beat Miss. State, 73-61.

Dick Harter's field goal with 90 seconds left gave Penn a 67-66 victory over Notre Dame in the feature of a twin bill at Philadelphia's Palestra. In the opener Villanova licked Siena, 57-49.

Detroit Boy, 19, No. 1 Fugitive

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The FBI's "most-wanted" list was revised today to include a teen-ager, the youngest person ever placed among the nation's 10 top fugitives.

He is 19-year-old Kenneth Lee Maurer of Detroit, sought for the bludgeoned deaths of his mother and 11-year-old sister in Detroit's Rouge Park section last Nov. 26.

The bureau describes Maurer as a shy youth of good appearance and pleasing personality.

He is adept at woodwork, and the FBI indicated its belief that he probably headed for some rural area when he disappeared on the day of the killings.

Kenneth's father, Lawrence Maurer, found the bodies of his wife, Daisy, and his daughter, Janet, when he came home from work about 6 p. m. on Nov. 26. A stained and bloody hunting knife were in a clothes hamper.

Kenneth had disappeared.

Truck Strikes Dog And Kills 5 Persons

LAWTON, Okla. — (AP) — A truck struck a dog crossing the highway, then careened out of control into an oncoming automobile, killing five members of one family near here yesterday.

The dead are Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Shaw, their sons Virgil Jr., 16, and Vernon, 19, and Clyde Storey, 29, son of Mrs. Shaw by a previous marriage. The Shaw family resided five miles east of Lawton.

Highway Patrolman L. L. Kelso reported truck driver Carl Wilson said his vehicle hit the dog and then went out of control. Wilson was seriously injured.

Witnesses Coy At Red Investigation In Detroit

mitted failure to serve the summons.

Minister Berated

Two members of the subcommittee of the House Un-American Activities Committee berated the Rev. Charles A. Hill, Detroit Baptist preacher, for his unwillingness to testify. Rev. Hill, for an hour on the stand, refused to answer questions about Communist activities.

At the very beginning of the session, Hill's attorney, George W. Crockett, was told to stop "making speeches" or be expelled from the room.

At the end of Hill's testimony, Rep. Jackson (R-Calif.) said: "The witness, as a minister of the cloth, is compounding treason by including God in his activities."

Rev. Hill quickly replied: "I am willing to stand trial in any court for what I have done."

Earlier, in testimony the minister had said he followed the precepts of Christ in all his undertakings and gave no concern as to political differentiations.

Rep. Potter, (R-Mich.), thereupon interposed:

"Rev. Hill, I must say that either you are cheating the Communist party out of dues if you are not a member or they owe you a great deal for your services."

When Hill sought again to reply, Chairman Wood (D-Ga.) rapped his gavel and ordered the witness excused.

Four Saved In Jump From Exploding B-29; Five Believed Dead

GUAM — (AP) — A U. S. Navy tanker today rescued four of five airmen who bailed out of a B-29 weather plane when an engine exploded 150 miles northwest of Guam yesterday.

Search is still on for a fifth man.

Five others presumably died in the explosion.

Military authorities named three of those rescued:

Capt. Michael Judge, New York, whose wife, Ruth, and family live on Guam; Lt. Edward W. Erickson, Superior, Wis., and Pic James L. Deese, Camden, Ark. They were uninjured.

The name of the fourth man rescued was not available. He was picked up about nine miles from the spot where the other three were found.

The four survivors were aboard the tanker Tombigbee, due to reach Guam early tomorrow.

Runaway Team Kills Clare County Farmer Who Shunned Autos

FARWELL, Mich. — (AP) — Sterling Winters, 79, who never bought an automobile because he thought cars were unsafe, was killed yesterday.

He was thrown from his horse-drawn wagon while driving into town.

A Clare county farmer, Winters had driven the same team of horses for years. Bert Head, Farwell marshal, said he insisted automobiles were too dangerous to drive.

Yesterday he hitched up the team to drive into town to buy feed for the horses. He was thrown to the frozen gravel on a county road one mile south of here when the team bolted.

Winters died in Clare hospital.

B-ys Take TV Idea But Get Caught In $20,000 Extortion

BALTIMORE — (AP) — Three boys—the oldest 14—who said they got the idea from watching a television crime program, were held on charges of extortion today after being foiled in an attempt for $20,000.

The intended victim, Simon I. Kemp, official for a neighborhood bank, was ordered by an anonymous caller to leave $20,000 in the vestibule of a certain house. His wife and daughter were threatened with death if the banker refused.

Kemp notified police, who told him to leave a fake package of money at the address. When someone inside picked up the package, police moved in and captured the three youngsters.

Wall Street

By RADER WINGET

NEW YORK — (AP) — The quiet decline of the stock market continued today for the third straight session.

Although there was little or no selling pressure present, the declines ran from fractions to between 1 and 2 points.

Utilities appeared to be holding against the decline, as they have in the past, but there were few areas of support elsewhere in the market. Steels, motors, oils, chemicals, and farm implements all were definitely lower.

Amerasia Petroleum, which shot ahead 9 1/2 points yesterday, was up fractionally at the opening and thereafter was dormant. The company reported another new well in North Dakota.

Radio Corp. was off a small fraction at the start. The company reported the highest sales in its history, but net profit dropped to about $31 million in 1951 from about $46 million the previous year.

The decline in the market yesterday was accompanied by light volume, around the lowest of the year, and this factor was one of the few encouraging signs adopted by the bulls in support of their case.

There are many brokers in Wall Street who are inclined to regard the low volume as an indication of auction on the part of traders rather than in any other light.

In any event the market now is in the lower trading range of the year, a position looked upon by many as a critical area from which the market could develop a major movement either way, especially on the downside if jolted by an unexpected piece of bad news.

Policy Retained On Pay Boosts

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Wage Stabilization Board has decided to continue its policy of giving automatic approval to pay boosts based on union-management cost-of-living contracts.

March 1 had been set as the cut-off date for automatic approvals, but the board announced last night it is continuing the policy indefinitely.

About four million union members are covered by contracts calling for upward or downward revision of pay based on the government's cost-of-living index.

The board's action means there will be no delay in putting into effect a pay boost of three cents an hour for more than a million members of the CIO-United Auto Workers in the automobile, farm machinery and aircraft industries.

The union's contract calls for a quarterly adjustment of pay based on the Labor Department's older of two yardsticks for measuring the cost of living. This index advanced two-tenths of 1 per cent between mid-December and mid-January—just enough to assure a three-cent raise.

Spending Estimates Assume Korean War Will End By June

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The administration, in planning its spending, is assuming the fighting in Korea will end by June 30 this year and that this country will not be involved in war for at least a year afterward.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) brought this out in questioning budget director, Frederick J. Lawton at a closed hearing of the Senate-House economic committee Jan. 23. The testimony was made public yesterday.

Lawton said spending estimates for fiscal 1953—which starts next July 1—were based on peacetime attrition rates for forces in Korea.

"For the purpose," Taft asked, "You are assuming the Korean war will be over for fiscal 1953?"

"Yes, in effect," Lawton replied.

"And that there won't be any other (war)?"

"That is correct."

Padlocking Of Soo Brothels Asked By Crusading Pastor

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. — (AP) — A civic upheaval over the claims of a national magazine that this community is one of the nation's "bad" vice spots, was shaping up here today.

A call for padlocking houses of prostitution came from Rev. Walter C. Saxman, pastor of the Central Methodist Church.

His recommendation was made at a public meeting of church, school and citizen representatives.

Rev. Saxman criticized city officials, claiming prostitution is "either protected or semi-protected." Police Chief Willard Welch denied it.

The minister accused Mayor William L. Freeman of telling the Sault Ste. Marie Ministerial Association six months ago that houses of prostitution will remain open as long as he is mayor.

The mayor said "If that is the impression, it was the wrong impression."

New Levies To Hit Michigan; No-Tax Ideas Ridiculed

committees are opposed to granting any deficiency appropriations this year.

Raises Already Granted

Senator Elmer R. Porter (R-Blistfield), chairman of the Senate appropriations committee, said "we have ten million dollars worth of requests for deficiency grants. If the treasury is faced with being unable to pay bills now authorized by appropriations, how can we logically appropriate more money?"

The committees criticized Hannah for granting M. S. C. employees a pay raise before getting the money from the Legislature. The same policy was followed by the University of Michigan.

Porter said Michigan State used $500,000 of operating funds to build two floors on its new Kellogg Center for Continuing Education without legislative approval.

The college, he said, cannot now complain it needs $438,000 for the pay raises.

Rep. Harry J. Phillips, (R-Port Huron) asked Hannah what the Legislature should do if it cannot find money for the deficiencies.

"Make the appropriations and pay it later," Hannah said. "It will be an obligation of the state that will be met in the future even if we have to go without pay checks for a month or so."

Sabre Jets Tangle With 190 Migs; One Down, One Damaged

SEOUL, Korea — (AP) — U. S. Sabre jet pilots today shot down one Communist Mig-15 and damaged another in a 10-minute fight in clearing North Korean skies. It was the first jet battle since Saturday.

The Sabre pilots said they traded firing passes with about 190 Migs—50 in the morning, 80 early in the afternoon and 60 toward evening.

As the snow and clouds of the past few days cleared, the U. S. Fifth Air Force flew about 500 sorties in the 24-hour period ended at 6 p. m. Wednesday—a nearly normal number.

In the preceding 24-hour period the Fifth Air Force flew only 26 sorties, lowest in three months.

Diamond Wedding Day

BAD AXE — (AP) — March ninth will be "Jerry Church Diamond Wedding Day" in Bad Axe, by proclamation of Mayor Van V. Philip, Church, 91, and Mrs. Church, 87, were married March 9, 1882. He is a retired power plant engineer and well driller.

A long-known but, until recently, little-used chemical called hydrazine is responsible for a new soldering method, which will give automobile radiators superior strength and less corrosion.

Communists Delay Truce Talks, Argue Over Soviet Merits

By GEORGE A. MCARTHUR

MUNSAN, Korea — (AP) — Staff officers tentatively agreed today to drop the question of voluntary exchange of prisoners of war back into the laps of a truce subcommittee.

They've settled all prisoner exchange details but this key issue and one minor translation problem. The translation was to be ironed out Thursday.

The subcommittee of armistice negotiators tentatively was scheduled to take over again Friday.

Germ Use Charged

A second staff committee headed toward a similar stalemate over Communist insistence that Soviet Russia help supervise the truce.

Col. Don O. Darrow told the Reds they "appear to be more interested in arguing the merits of the Soviet Union than in reaching an armistice agreement."

North Korean Sol. Chang Cuh-San said the Communists would "categorically reject" any Allied proposal to sidetrack Russia. He said the only solution was for the U. N. Command to accept the Red nomination of the Soviet Union, Poland and Czechoslovakia as neutral nations to help police a truce.

Communists charges that the Allies are using germ warfare were heard in Panmunjon outside the truce tent.

The charges, repeated regularly for four days over Red radios, also drew first official note from an Allied spokesman. In Seoul, a U. S. Eighth Army spokesman said: "It is not true as far as this headquarters is concerned. We

Port Huron Schoolboy Quizzed In Shotgun Death Of Playmate, 8

PORT HURON, Mich. — (AP) — State police today held a 14-year-old school boy for questioning in the shotgun death of his eight-year-old playmate.

The youth, Stanley Martin, told officers Carl McDonald Cameron was killed yesterday while they were playing "cops and robbers."

The shooting took place at the farm home of Martin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Martin, near the St. Clair county village of Avoca.

Young Martin said he was playing with a .12 gauge shotgun and Carl with a top pistol. He said the gun was discharged accidentally, shot striking Carl in the chest and killing him instantly.

Martin, a 7th grade pupil in Gillis school, ran to the nearby school to summon a teacher. Carl, a third-grader in the same school, was the foster son of Mr. and Mrs. Angus Cameron.

Police said they planned to take Martin to East Lansing for a lie detector test.

Tenancy Law Hits Pakistan Landlords

KARACHI, Pakistan — (P) — The legislative assembly of Pakistan's rich Punjab province bordering India have adopted a new tenancy law limiting landlords to retention of a maximum of 50 acres of cultivatable lands.

Under the land reform law—one of the most advanced in Pakistan—feudal landlords are deprived of the right to eject tenants at will without reasonable excuse. It sets the division of produce between tenant and landlord at 60 per cent for the tenant, 40 per cent for the landlord.

Punjab provincial officials estimated more than 500 landlords are affected by the land reform act.

Japanese Toys Are Proving Popular

SIDNEY, Australia — (P) — Japanese toys have been selling so well that unless import restrictions ease this year, the supply will not meet the demand, an importing company official said recently.

One company, believed to be the only one importing Japanese toys into Victoria, has already had to restrict allocations. One shop manager said he had to replenish one line three days after it appeared on the shelves. "When it comes to buying people forget international differences," he said.

Opera Hits Grass Roots Level In Carolina Hills

REHEARSAL in the Grass Roots opera school.

By BRYAN HAILSLIP

AP Newsfeatures
RALEIGH, N. C.—The glitter of the Diamond Horseshoe of New York's Metropolitan Opera House is reflected in a studio over a jewelry store here.

It's a long jump between the two points, but Director Robert C.

Bird of the Carolina Opera School believes some of his students can make the grade.

The school, launched under the extension service of the University of North Carolina, already has some of the glamour of the Met. One of its staff members is Norman Cordon, a native North Carolinian who sang baritone roles with the Metropolitan.

Another member of the staff is Mrs. Estelle Rucker, equally famed as a concert pianist and as Vice President Alben Barkley's mother-in-law.

Director Bird sees a future for the school as bright as the wares sold in the jewelry store below. There's not another quite like it in the country, he declared.

Grass Roots Opera on Road
Some other universities offer training in opera, but this school has its own touring company to give students actual on-the-road experience, Bird explained. The Grass Roots Opera Company, a project of the North Carolina Federation of Music Clubs, helps the students take the music of Verdi and Mozart to small towns and rural areas of the state. The federation also helped launch the school.

Bird, a former director of the Fort Worth, Tex., Civic Opera Association, said he has found a lot of enthusiasm for opera in touring the state. He directs the opera company as well as the school.

The picture wasn't so rosy when the school first set up shop in a Raleigh residential district last fall. After the first few operatic trills sounded through the neighborhood, distressed citizens took their complaints to the city council.

The council amended zoning ordinances to ban opera school from residential districts and the school moved downtown. The would-be Carusos and budding prima donnas now practice in the rooms over the jewelry store and in a radio station's soundproof studios.

General Staging Taught
Singing isn't the only subject taught. Students also get training in opera dramatics, costuming and stage techniques. If they wish, they can receive undergraduate credit at the university at Chapel Hill about 30 miles away.

About 20 students are enrolled. Most take full-time work, but some come in for evening classes. The operas the students take on the road with the Grass Roots company are all given in English. This is the only way opera will ever gain a secure foothold in America, says Bird. Faculty members and local singers are recruited to fill out the casts for Grass Roots productions. Music is supplied by Mrs. Rucker at the piano.

In choosing operas for production, Bird steers away from such heavy fare as Wagner. Comic opera is the standard choice. Mozart's "School for Lovers" is a favorite. The company also has presented Bizet's "Carmen," and Verdi's "La Traviata."

"DEAF" COLLEGE
The United States is the only country with a college of accepted standard for the deaf, Gallaudet college. Established in Washington, D. C., in 1864, it awards the usual bachelors' and masters' degrees in art and science.

'Big Freeze' Program Gets Bread To Alaska

SEATTLE — (P) — You've heard the old gag, of course, about the super-salesman who could sell refrigerators to the Eskimos.

But would you ever expect to hear that they actually are shipping frozen bread to Alaska?

What's more, the going prize for a large loaf (six days old, or thereabouts) is around 40 cents. It sells at the standard price in Anchorage, which is a booming military center with high prices and too few bakeries to meet the demand.

The bread is frozen, then packed with dry ice in wooden boxes. Each holds 3,000 pounds of bread and from 200 to 400 pounds of dry ice. And, says Kiert Smith, who developed the shipping container, the bread reaches Anchorage with the same quality of freshness it had when it left the bakery.

RISE IN INFLATION
A dirigible containing helium gas seldom is inflated more than 85 per cent when leaving the ground, but as soon as the ship begins to rise, the gas begins to expand and fills the bag to capacity.

Lower California is approximately 810 miles long.

Schaffer

Card Club Meets
SCHAFER — Mrs. Homer Seymour entertained the card club Wednesday evening in her home. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Ed Meyers, Mrs. Tom LaFleur and Mrs. George Pilon. Lunch and refreshments were served.

Andrew LeBeau left Friday to spend the weekend at the Dewey LeBeau home in Flint, and with relatives and friends in Pontiac and Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Martin and children, Gail and Michael, are spending the weekend in Chicago with relatives.

Nan LaVigne spent the weekend with friends in Milwaukee.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe LeBeau and Nancy and Mrs. P. Forgette visited in Niagara on Sunday.

CRAFTY CUCKOO
The cuckoo not only lays its eggs in other birds' nests, but also carries off one of the foster bird's eggs and devours it. The young cuckoo hatches before its foster brothers and then works its way underneath the unhatched eggs, backs to the edge of the nest, and shoves the eggs over the rim one by one. The foster birds then devote their efforts to feeding the intruding cuckoo.

Paris Sum-Up: Fashions Are Fluid

PYTHON AND BOA stoles from Madame Mendel highlight fur styles. The python (left) is made from silver fox skins, and the boa from monkey fur.

Maggy Rouff: The wasp waist, fullness massed at the back, short suit jackets over full skirts.

Jacques Heim: The dropped waistline, middie blouses and pleated skirts, sweater bodices and low necklines. A definite air of the 1920s here; ostrich boas are 10 feet long.

Jacques Fath: Bustline at an all-time high, higher waistline and rounded hips. The longer "penguin" jacket, very low necklines for daytime clothes, skirts divided equally between sheath and bell.

Jacques Griffe: Belts disappear completely, waistline is just indicated. The bosomline is high and suit jackets fastened below the waistline.

Jean Patou: Deep, scooped necklines, tailored suits with fluid line, the broad tones replacing black.

Pierre Balmain: Two silhouettes, one narrow and the other full. Suit jackets stopping short of the hipbone, fitted, waistlength jackets called "caracos."

Schiaparelli: The open heart bosom line, wandering belts, the emphasized bustline. Topcoats show belts at bustline, across shoulder, or way below normal.

they're either shorter or longer than this happy medium at several houses.

In width, a skirt may be anything from a sheath to a bell. It may be pleated, bias or gored. If it's full, whether a suit skirt, a dress skirt or a ball gown skirt, that fullness may very well be pulled to the back.

The big houses show these trends:

Christian Dior: The "sinuous line," normal waistline, unstressed bosom. Skirts have fullness, suit jackets are slightly longer, with a feeling of 1920 in nearly all daytime clothes.

Manguin: Waistline just above or below normal, revealing décolletés, suits with shorter basques. Much back fullness.

Plywood-Plastic May Cut Freight Shortage In U. S.

By JOHN I. SNYDER, JR.
President, Pressed Steel Car Co.
(Written for NEA Service)

NEW YORK—(NEA)—A serious shortage of freight-carrying vehicles is threatening the free movement of vital goods on both the railroads and the highways of the United States.

In many places, production is jamming up and clogging our nation's supply lines, impeding the defense effort and interfering with orderly distribution.

But there may be a solution. A time-tested principle of construction, using plywood and high-strength plastics, which is entirely new and unique in the land transportation field, may spell the answer to the serious transportation problem that is tying up America's production machine. This idea may perhaps overcome the gnawing shortage of metals.

This construction principle is called Unicel. It uses cellular laminates, a relatively new material made by laminating strong plywoods grain-against-grain with specially formulated super-strength plastics.

The laminated sections are then subjected to high frequency heat, applied under tremendous electronic pressures, to form a single unit-cell structure, stronger than steel in the freight car and trailer applications.

Every Unicel freight car means a saving of about 11 tons of precious steel. Then, of course, the plentitude of plywood compared to our stock piles, production rate, and capacity of war-short metals is an important consideration.

Another big stumbling block to getting enough freight cars rolling over the rails is the railroads' generally lowered ability to pay for the cars they need. The weakened financial position of the railroads has been brought about by low freight rates, mounting operating costs and excessive regulation and taxation.

All of these factors have reduced earning power and a continuance of this trend will ultimately affect railroad credit adversely—and credit is necessary for equipment purchasing.

So, on the one hand, we have a physical inability to produce more steel cars because of the shortage of steel, and on the other hand, we have the possible financial weakness of the railroads. Unicel is expected to play a big part in helping to make up for the first part of this double scarcity. And some of the best brains in the nation have been at work for long on the second problem.

The possibility of further freight rate increases that might be granted by the Interstate Commerce Commission will allow a little more income for the railroads' treasuries. The constantly improving financial housekeeping of the railroads' managements will undoubtedly bring worthwhile economies.

On the highways, the financial situation is somewhat easier. But here again, the steel and aluminum shortage is acutely pinching the supply of the big cargo-carrying truck trailers we need. The recently-introduced Unicel truck-trailer, made just like its railroad counterpart, saves two tons of war-scarce metal.

And, like the Unicel freight car, the Unicel trailer can be built more speedily, a most important factor in today's transportation picture.

Both on the rails and on the roads, many minds and hands are wrestling with the mighty problem of how to keep our raw materials and our finished goods moving freely to and from production lines and to consumers the world over—in the field in Korea, in the NATO nations, and here at home. It is the nation's need and it will be served.

Japanese Rubber Estates Are Sold

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya—(AP)—Sales of Japanese rubber estates in Malaya brought $10,666,230 last year.

The custodian of enemy property reported 16 enemy-owned estates remain to be sold. Proceeds go to pay war damage claims. A total of 112,675,979 pounds of rubber has been produced on the enemy-owned estates since the liberation.

Sea Water Refined For Human Drinking

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—(AP)—An inventor of a practical process of converting sea water into drinking water and the Refinite Co., have almost completed negotiations for building a "pilot model" plant.

Company officials said inventor Peter Jones, of Los Angeles, will build the portable plant at Refinite Co.'s home office, in Omaha, Neb. Jones explained he has successfully produced a "barometric" or natural vacuum which makes the boiling and purifying of salt water more economical.

Natives Take Up Farming In Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, Belgian—(AP)—The Belgian Congo authorities have launched an ambitious scheme of collective farming which aims at turning some 435,000 Congo natives into modern farmers.

Some 40,000 families have already been resettled in newly created agricultural centers. The authorities are trying to work a compromise enabling them to respect tribal traditions thus facilitating the change to farming. The program's objective is to stabilize native population thus halting the movement towards the big cities.

Some species of wrasse fish lie flat on their sides at night, and sleep.

SAFETY PROBER—Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle, above, air hero of both World Wars and now an oil company executive, will head a special commission to be appointed by President Truman to study airport safety near big cities. Concern over three recent plane crashes at Elizabeth, N. J., that took 116 lives reportedly caused the President to decide on such a commission.

New Drug Warfarin Instead Of Pied Piper Rids Rat Scourge

RAT SMORGASBORD is a mixture of cornmeal and deadly warfarin. This rubble pile in Halsey, Ore., was used as bait in tests of the drug, which proved effective. Five nights after this picture was taken, not one rat showed up.

By NEA Service
HALSEY, Ore. (NEA) — The Pied Piper of Hamelin has nothing on this little Oregon town—except his musical ability.
 Like Hamelin, Halsey is rat-free, but nobody used a flute. The new drug, warfarin, did the trick. It was used in a six-month field test under the auspices of the Oregon State Board of Health and the U. S. Public Health Service.
 The experiment was to determine if complete rat riddance could be obtained by using warfarin as bait. Now that the answer is "yes," both health agencies believe it could be used by other communities in the nation, as well as business establishments.
 Rats are estimated to do more than $100,000,000 damage yearly. Somebody or something has to stop them, or soon rats would over-run the earth. Milton H. Buehler, Jr., of the U. S. Public Health Service, who conducted the successful experiment here, says a female rat at four months will start having litters of six to ten young. And she can have from six to eight litters yearly.

Mathematically, 250,000,000 rats could stem from a determined pair in three years, providing none was destroyed.

Rodent control men are elated over results here with warfarin. It is a drug first obtained from di-cumoral by the Wisconsin Alumni Research Foundation (the foundation's name supplies the first four letters of WARFARIN). It's chief use, medically, is to keep blood from coagulating. Given to rats in strong doses it does that, and more, too.

Buehler says it is the safest rat bait so far found. Chickens and animals are not susceptible to its action. He adds, "The drug in rats keeps the blood from clotting and then four or five days after the rat eats it, the small blood vessels start to leak. Eventually he dies of internal hemorrhage. He gets weaker and generally goes back to his burrow to keep warm and then die."

Halsey had lots of rats when Buehler arrived on the scene with his warfarin bait. This village of 400 persons had rats in 147 out of 181 buildings. Then the campaign began.

Warfarin, in a five per cent solution, was mixed with yellow cornmeal, with one part of the drug to 20 parts of meal, plus a quart of cooking oil mixed in with each 100 pounds to keep the poison from dusting off.
 A buffer strip was placed around this farm shopping center, with bait stations under all outside buildings. Seven old barns were torn down, a big blackberry patch was grubbed out, and rubble piles and other hiding places for rats were cleaned up.

At the end of the first month, only one rat was sighted. By the end of six, none was seen for several months.

Rat-free Halsey, however, remains vigilant. Before leaving, Buehler set up a system whereby if anybody here sees a rat, he notifies one of the town's three grocers or Mayor L. D. Taylor, who also is bank president. They immediately notify the watchman and a new spot is baited.

The warfarin-cornmeal method is economical. Buehler says bait costs between $20 and $25 per hundred pounds, and a little goes a long way. The campaign here used a bit more than 400 pounds. Only about 80 man-hours, just enough time to lay out the bait, were needed.

So now Halsey, laying claim to being the only rat-free place in the U. S., keeps an eye open for any new rats in town.

Glycerine will keep frost off windows.

Demo Leaders For Kefauver

By DREW PEARSON

The delegates who nominated President Truman in 1948 now overwhelmingly favor Senator Kefauver to succeed him—if Truman chooses not to run again. This is the finding of the Joseph M. Baird company of New York, an impartial research outfit, which has quietly polled 2,798 delegates to the 1948 Democratic convention.

The results show Kefauver two to one ahead of his nearest rival, Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois. Of the 826 delegates who replied to the straw ballot, 35 per cent voted for Kefauver, 19 per cent for Stevenson, 15 per cent for Chief Justice Fred Vinson, 14 per cent for Illinois Sen. Paul Douglas and 4 per cent for Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas.

Kefauver held a commanding lead in the key states of New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, California and Michigan. He was the weakest in his own bailiwick—the South—though even there he led most of the other candidates. In Georgia, he trailed Georgia's own senator, Dick Russell, but ran a close second. In Kentucky and Arkansas, Kefauver ran behind Chief Justice Vinson. Elsewhere in the South, the Tennessee senator polled the most votes.

His biggest lead was in his home state, Tennessee, where he received nine of the ten votes cast—despite the vindictive opposition of his colleague, Sen. Kenneth McKellar, who has vowed to crush him.

Though the poll looks good for Kefauver, it didn't answer the $64 question: What would be the result if Truman decides to run against Kefauver?

Death Still Lurks In Wasted Devil's Forest

MINE DETECTORS comb the Devil's Forest for traps.

By WILLY M. HORNBACH
AP Newsfeatures
VOSSENOCK, Germany — Seven years after the war, danger and death still shadow the daily life of inhabitants of this little Huertgen forest village in the Eifel mountains, near the Belgian border.

For war at its fiercest passed this way. Ask any American GI or German soldier who survived the battles of the Huertgen forest. And even now hidden mines, dud bombs and other explosives are found by the score in the region.

When the Allied forces crossed the German border near Aachen in the fall of 1944, Germany hurled most of her remaining troops in the West against the attacker. In the hilly woodlands of the Eifel, backed by the armored forts of the Siegfried Line, the German Wehrmacht checked the American advance.

Bloody weeks of hand-to-hand fighting, murderous artillery barrages and air bombardment followed. Every inch of the "Huertgenwald"—soon called the Devil's Forest by battle-tired, desperate and exhausted GIs—was soaked with blood.

In the twilight of these once-beautiful woods 50,000 American and German soldiers lost their lives. And even now farmers, lumberjacks, and members of mine-clearing squads are being killed or crippled by hidden explosives.

Most dangerous of all is the Wild Boar Ridge, northeast of Vossenack. It is still "off limits" and may be entered only by the mine squads. Several thousand mines have been found here in the last few months, most of them made of plastics to evade the searching "feelers" of the mine detector.

Wild boar Ridge still looks like it had been hit by a string of atomic bombs. No tree, no blade of grass was spared the fury of the murderous battle. Torn tree trunks loom against a grey, cloudy sky, typical for this region, their branches twisted to haunting images of the hands of fallen soldiers.

Reconstruction proved almost impossible. Only one part of the Devil's Forest, the Germeter Ridge, has been cleared and reconverted to farmland for a group of settlers brought there by the government. So extensive is the damage to the Eifel forests that the government plans to build a factory just for the production of tar, the wood for it being taken from the destroyed trees.

More than 123,000 persons inhabited the Huertgen Kreis (county) before the war. In 1945 only 4,000 were left. Only 10 per cent of its buildings remained intact, most others were destroyed completely. Damage to private housing property runs up to 72 million dollars. One third of the farmland was left waste.

HUGE DAM

Largest masonry structure ever erected by man is Grand Coulee dam, on the Columbia river. The dam is seven times as big as the Cheops pyramid in Egypt. Its spillway can form a waterfall five times the average flow of Niagara and three times as high.

Grand Marais

School Notes

GRAND MARAIS—Parents of the third grade students were invited to attend a program of pupils activity which culminated a six weeks study of Mexico and Central America. The group study was concentrated on Mexican life, music, art and customs. The skit presented before the mothers depicted a scene from a market day in the Plaza and was prepared entirely by the following pupils:

Mexicans, Jack Miemi, Dianne Yalimaki, Helen Picel, Ralph LaCombe, Joseph Venturato, Norbert Drust, James LaBelle, Jamie Mulligan, Arthur Wickstrom, Stella Williams, Rozel Williams, Jack Roberts, Ronald Ball, Ronald Weber, Beverly Borsaw.

American Tourists, Michael Mulligan, James Kropp, Reuben Knutson, Marla Senecal, Patricia Baynton and John Newberg. Matador, Albert LaCombe Bull, Jimmy Lambert

At the same time pupils of the fourth grade, under the direction of their music teacher Mrs. Vio Mixon, gave a cowboy play complete with songs and costumes. Pupils participating were: Paul Senecal, Rose Trudeau, John Venturato, Helen Nyman, Carol Williams, Fred Ball, Alice Trudeau, Suzanne and Rosemary Hebert, Carol Traeger, Bobby Mauer and Larry Hartman.

Today's Crime Stories Lousy

By ROBERT C. RUARK
NEW YORK—The literary output of the people who write the whodunits for the two-bit paperbacks is as vast as ever. But either I am getting much older or the writing is getting much lousier. Maybe both.

We had a golden age of the detective story a few years back, after Dashiell Hammett invented the private-eye and the tough-dick school of mystery writing, and when Hammett faltered to devote himself to bright pink politics, a disciple named Raymond Chandler wrote some mighty fine tough stuff. It was a fur, fur piece from that rapid ass, Philo Vance, and was literature of a pretty clean character.

But the imitators took over and defiled the formula, until I am beginning to wish that Mr. Hammett and Mr. Chandler had never popularized the brutal beating and the cold killing and the kiss-em-first-and-kill-em-later method of dealing with dames, shameless hussies though they be. The eager imitators have coarsened the tough school into a fatuous farce.

The Gory Mr. Hammer
The newest titan of the belly-shooting breed of private eyes is a young fellow named Mickey Spillane, who turns out epics about a private eye named Mike Hammer with the alarming rapidity of a rabbit preparing for Easter. The gory exploits of Mr. Hammer sell like foolproof formulas for making money. Based largely on the fact that Mr. Hammer disdains juries and the due process of law.

Mr. Hammer likes to kill people, largely, I gather, as other men fancy golf and stamp-collecting. Mr. Hammer is impatient with the cops, who are too slow and stupid to please him, so he fans his big 45 and shoots everybody who ruffles him. Sometimes he shoots off their faces. If he dislikes them very much he shoots them through the belt buckle, so that they will have a painful little period of sin contemplation.

Chiefly, though, Mr. Hammer really likes to shoot dames, although he professes a certain finicky distaste for dealing distaff death. Mr. Hammer is all the time getting tied up with dames who need killing, so his lack of hesitancy in slapping a slug into their buxom chassis is probably an admirable trait, if a touch treasonous to the Southern school of chivalry.

But before Mr. Hammer shoots them he falls in love with them, or they with him, and I regret to say that Mr. Hammer has a set of morals that might gag a goat. He is a he-pusher, with the best beveled heels in private detection, and the girls are forever at him. He skips from boudoir to boudoir with the nimbleness and general effectiveness of a fellow who cares not where morning finds him, leaving a wake of tears and tattered peinoirs behind.

Usually Tired And Drunk
There is something peculiar in Mr. Hammer's chemistry that so affects ladies that they immediately begin to strain at their garments and heave mightily in the vicinity of the thorax. Between killing people and wrestling with girls, Mike is always tired and generally drunk. The only living man is tired than Mike, at the end of the book, is me, and I think his amours weary me more than his manslaughters, murders, and self-appointed executions.

But the doings of Mr. Michael Hammer sell in the millions, so I guess the people who pillage the magazine stands in the stations and airports know what they want—a half-and-half blend of stark sex, solid sadism, and bum writing. I love the detective junk, and I wish there were more guys around like young Dick Starnes, a relative newcomer whose three I've read—"When She Was Bad She Was Murdered," "Another Body In Grant's Tomb," and "Another Mug For The Bier." They prove that a man with wit, knowledge and plot can make a lady out of the seedy trollop that most detective writing has largely become. I assume no credit for Mr. Starnes' general excellence, even though he began his literary career as a copy boy—and an indolent one—under a portion of my benign influence. Rather, I would say that Dick has triumphed over his early, low associations and has infused some definite class into a very trashy medium.

But most of the others... wow. They cast their dead broads upon the waters, beat their private Richards to a pulp, and the general result is just that. Pulp, and of a very low order.

Traffic Meeting Set To Solve Problems

MILAN—(P)—Europe's mounting traffic problems—and the methods and machinery which can help to solve them—will be high-lighted in Milan's second international traffic and safety exhibition.

The show, sponsored by the Automobile Club of Milan, will be held in June. Sixteen countries took part in the first exhibition last spring.

Canine Paratroops Will Be Trained

MANILA—(P)—The Philippines army is preparing to train a new paratroop team of dogs to aid airborne units in fighting the elusive Communist Huk. Dogs presently are assisting army forces in tracking down Reds in thick jungle areas.

The new K-9 airborne unit will be 160 strong and include 150 German Shepherd police dogs imported from Japan and a mixed assortment of 10 other dogs. American military advisers now are training recruits for a full airborne battalion of 500 men. The para-dogs will be attached to that battalion.

Whatever Happened To Saturday Night?

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Whatever happened to Saturday night? Saturday used to have a special character of its own all over America. Today it is just getting to be another day in the week. A generation or so ago almost every town in the country was, as the saying went, "a Saturday night town." Saturday was the working man's one day of galmour, a time when he could kick up his heels and show he was really born to be a king. Everyone who lived in the

Rapid River

Washington Day Tea
RAPID RIVER—The Esther Society of the Calvary Lutheran Church held a Washington Day tea at the parish hall Friday afternoon. Mrs. Oscar Johnson poured the coffee at a beautifully appointed table. Centering the table was a bouquet of sweepstakes flanked by lighted tapers at either end.

A short program was presented. "God Is Love" was sung by the group. Devotions were read by Ruth Pearson. Other numbers were: song, vocal trio, Rita Ross, Mary Lee Lind and Clare Shafer; piano selection, Kathleen Holmgren. Mrs. Clifford Peterson; Gladstone, in an interesting talk on "How To Stay Young," vocal solo by the Rev. Wilbert Johnson, remarks by Catharine Wickstrom, hymn by the group, "O For A Closer Talk with God," benediction by the Rev. Johnson.

Friends from Escanaba, Gladstone, Ensign and Rapid River were in attendance.

MONSOON
KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (AP)—Rail service between here and Singapore was disrupted for 10 days recently when monsoon floods washed away large sections of the single track. All told, the Malayan Railway said, about two miles of track was either washed away or put badly out of alignment.

A red blood corpuscle has an average life of from 30 to 70 days.

country came in for a night on the town. The farmer unhitched his plow and hitched up his wagon. While his wife toured the stores, buying the best gingham and ribbons she could afford, he sat with other farmers in the courthouse square and traded crop gossip and found out who was suing whom and cussed out the local banker and criticized the weather.

Wets His Whistle
Then the family took in a dance or a show and clip-clopped contentedly home late at night, the kids asleep in the back of the wagon, the grownups wondering if the hired hand would show up by milking time and saying to each other, "It must be awful to live in town all week. I just couldn't stand it."

In the cities Saturday was payday. The jubilee signal was the factory closing whistle that blew at noon or one o'clock. The workman paused on the way home to wet his own whistle and get a haircut. His children could hear the happy jingle in his pockets. The family bathtub got a real workout then, washing away the week's sweat and care, and somebody was always banging on the door and saying, "hurry up in there, won't you? I'm next." Mama scrubbed the youngest kids in a washtub in the kitchen to save time.

After that there was the week's grocery buying and the candy buying, and dinner out, and a movie. Sister disappeared with her best beau, and big brother sneaked off with his pals and mama fretted, "I'd just like to know what those boys are really up to now."

The next morning everybody woke up happy, tired and so broke you looked the other way when you dropped your contribution into the plate they passed at church. It made such a small tinkle you felt guilty.

Sunday For Snoring
Mama then cooked a mammoth Sunday dinner. After that was eaten, everybody was so worn out they had to take a nap, and you could hear snoring all over the house. The next day was Monday, the beginning of the empty-pocket part of the week, but the excitement of looking forward to another Saturday night would carry you through.

But the five-day week, the radio, and the automobile are changing the pattern. There are a lot of "Friday night towns" now. And many people who live in the country now can't go to town on Saturday; they have to stay home and entertain visitors from the city, who flee the concrete canyons at every chance.

Army Gets Low-Down On Long Johns Plastic Underwear Proves Waterproof In Tests

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Writer
AT THE KOREAN FRONT—(NEA)—Every GI up here has heard one story or another about a crazy new kind of Long Johns which the Quartermaster Corps is trying out this Winter. Word is around that the underwear is (1) Bullet-proof. (2) Filled with gas to make climbing up hills easier. (3) Waterproof and windproof. (4) Never has to be washed. And there are other tales, too.

As it happens, the only part of this fabulous story that's true is that the new underwear is windproof and waterproof. But the few weeks during which it has been tested under actual Winter combat conditions indicate it's likely to be just as revolutionary as though it were really bullet-proof.

Only five of these unusual garments have been made so far, although many months of research have gone into the project. Five QM Winter clothing experts are now wearing them at various places at the front, trying to find out if they are practical.

The initial success of the combat tests has already inspired the ordering of a much larger quantity for more extensive testing.

The underwear is olive drab in color and looks and feels like foam rubber, although the material is actually a plastic. It is about three-quarters of an inch thick, comes in two parts—top and bottom—and is shaped to the general contours of the body.

On the inside the underwear has rounded protrusions which provide an air space between the body and the underwear. There are buttons on the sides of the drawers for adjusting the waistline and a zipper front. The top zips down the middle and is held together with draw string.

Dr. Paul Siple, a rather stout man who is probably one of the greatest experts in the world on Winter clothing, heads the group which is testing the unusual garments. In the 1930s, as a Boy Scout, Siple accompanied Adm. Richard E. Byrd to the Antarctic. So far, he is enthusiastic about the new garment.

HIGH AND DRY in the Han River in Korea is Dr. Paul Siple. He's wearing the new plastic underwear, which is windproof and waterproof. Siple has even gone swimming with the garment on.

It is supposed to take the place of the numerous layers of clothing which the Quartermaster Corps now issues to the men to keep them warm. All Siple wears with the underwear up here is a field jacket and cotton trousers.

This reporter rode two hours with him in an open jeep with the temperature just below zero. I was cold in my underwear, shirt, pile liner jacket and field coat. He was perfectly comfortable in the back seat with his field jacket open. Actually, he wears the jacket and cotton trousers more to provide him pocket space than for warmth.

Walking up a steep ridge with him, in below zero temperature, he was obviously perspiring.

Sweat was dripping off the drawstrings of the top of the underwear and forming icicles at the end. Yet he insisted he was neither uncomfortable from the perspiration inside, nor from the cold outside.

As part of the test he wore the underwear six days without taking a shower, or removing it. He suffered no rash or skin trouble during the period. When he took his first shower he astonished the GIs who were at the shower station by removing it, turning it inside out and washing it, then drying it with a towel and finally putting it back on.

A small complaint Siple registers is the tendency of the underwear to snag on sharp bits of underbrush when he tests it by crawling along on patrols. However, he says subsequent suits will have a hardened surface which will help prevent this difficulty. In previous tests, Siple has demonstrated how he can leap into icy water and not only keep warm inside the waterproof underwear, but be kept afloat by its buoyancy. He swam and waded in the Han River without discomfort.

Hearing of the remarkable qualities of the underwear, Air Force experts have suddenly become very interested in it. Pilots who have to ditch crashed planes in any of the icy waters around Japan and Korea haven't much chance of long survival if they aren't picked up immediately. The underwear could keep them afloat as well as keep them warm, and, in addition, be far less bulky than the present gear a pilot is forced to wear.

One last point in favor of the wonder underwear—it does not use any critical materials.

John Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chet Harris, has been dismissed from St. Francis Hospital, where he was a surgical patient. Mr. and Mrs. Leo Godin spent the weekend in Iron Mountain and Norway, where they attended the thirteenth wedding anniversary celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Samanski.

Exploding Stars Are Studied By Science

MT. PALOMAR, Calif.—(AP)—Scientists here are busy studying novae and supernovae—stars that blow up.

The astronomers are looking at them through red and blue filters in an attempt to find if atomic energy makes them explode.

It would be interesting to know if our own sun will ever join the novae class, a scientist said. "If so, earth and the other planets of the sun would not last more than a few hours."

Inventor Makes Reality Of A Hoople Brainstorm

AHEAD OF THE TIMES was Major Amos B. Hoople (left, with fox and smug expression) when his brilliant mind invented the middle-horn radio on June 18, 1937. Today, there is a patent for it.

By NEA Service

Major Amos Barnaby Hoople, star of the "Our Boarding House" cartoon in the Escanaba Daily Press, has just won national recognition for an invention he perfected almost 15 years ago.

The famous inventor, in a cartoon appearing in this paper June 18, 1937, unveiled his saddle horn radio, designed to carry soap operas, disc jockeys and other (ahem) entertainment to the lonely cowboys riding the range.

And now along comes Elmer Rovere, of San Francisco, Cal., who has applied for a patent on a contraption based on the Major's idea. The patent was granted, but the Patent Office believes in granting credit where credit is due, so it was Major Hoople, and not Rovere, who won recognition for originating the device.

In Rovere's saddle, the controls are behind the saddle horn and the speaker is in the same place. The Major's saddle had the sound coming out of the top of the horn with the controls forward of it.

Thus all that Rovere has a patent on is how he has bored a hole in the saddle, and where he has placed the controls. If anybody wants to carry out the Major's plan to the letter, it's all right with the Patent Office, and they can get a patent, too.

Interviewed on the subject of Rovere's saddle horn radio, Major Hoople was tolerant and amused. "Heh-heh," he chuckled. "Good luck to Mr. Rovere! We inventors must stick together—har-rumph!"

While many of the Major's inventions have been found practical, others have been relegated to the department of fantasy. Of these latter are the revolving doormat, luminous shaving cream for shaving in the dark and many too numerous to mention.

Radio Quizmaster Is Unsuspecting Cupid

NEW YORK—(AP)—Bert Parks and his CBS show, "Break the Bank," have played a starring role in the lives of at least one young couple.

Six years ago Alan Kluger met the girl he married 11 months ago when quizmaster Parks suggested that members of the studio audience introduce themselves to the one sitting alongside.

Recently Alan and Florence Kluger appeared on the Parks show again. They broke the bank for $2,050. The money went into the bank to "cushion" the arrival of the couple's baby this summer.

OIL CITY, Pa.—Efforts of U. S. Airmen to brighten the lives of Korean orphans are mushrooming into a nation-wide drive.

It all began shortly before Christmas. Col. Francis S. Gabreski, of Oil City, commanding officer of the 51st U. S. A. F. Fighter Interceptor Wing and one of the nation's leading war aces, suggested the unit share its Christmas spirit with some young victims of Communist aggression—a group of Korean war orphans.

U. N. Lends A Hand

Gabreski with the help of the United Nations Civil Assistance in Korea and two Army chaplains, found the Yeung Joo Chainan orphanage, located in a decaying Buddhist monastery near the ancient walled city of Suwon. The chaplains are Capt. Edward J. Cleary of Memphis, Tenn., and Albert M. Mattheis of Panama City, Fla.

Among the orphans they found seven-year-old Kim, his face scarred by bombs; five-year-old Chung Un, whose bandage-swathed head still carries pieces of Communist mortar shrapnel; and Sun Ja, a four-year-old youngster whose bare feet and thin cotton rags tell of the hardships of the hard Korean winter.

ships of the hard Korean winter.

News-vaper Pushes It

Remembering the generosity of his home town folk, Col. Gabreski wrote Oil City's mayor, William A. Morch, and Newspaperman Norman P. Blizzell, an appeal for aid.

They helped launch a newspaper campaign to accumulate funds for the orphanage. The response was quick. Food, clothing, medical supplies and money began to pour in.

Nearly $1,200 has been contributed to the Gabreski Fund sponsored by the Derrick Publishing Co. in Oil City. Contributions have arrived from Edinburg, Texas; New York City; Fort Worth, Tex.; Alexandria, La.; Kansas City, Mo.; Salisbury, N. C.; Fort Sill, Okla.; and various cities in Pennsylvania.

Since the drive opened, the Oil City Police Department has been diverting fines of overtime

U. S. Minister Aids Old English Church

NEW YORK—(AP)—A donation to help repair and maintain a 13th Century English church, one of the oldest in England, has been made by a New York minister.

The Rev. R. C. Hunsicker of St. Paul's Chapel here, sent a $200 check to the rector of Ifley Church, Oxfordshire, England. The New York clergyman said he was impressed with the antiquity and magnificence of the church he saw on a visit last summer.

parking motorists to the fund. About $200 has been collected.

In Korea, the 51st has tabbed the drive "Operations Happiness." Despite their daily tasks of mounting combat sorties, men and officers of the fighter wing still have time to bring a little happiness to the empty stomachs of more than 200 orphans. They've begun to rehabilitate the Kim's, Sun Ja's and Chung Un's.

Chinese Antipathy Grows In Thailand

NEW DELHI, India—(AP)—Anti-Chinese sentiment runs high in Thailand's new labor movement, an observer of the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions reported after a tour of South-east Asia.

"The racial rivalry which is very keen in Thailand is strongly reflected in the trade union movement," Govardhan Mapara said in a report submitted to the I. C. F. T. U.

He declared that some rice mill and dock laborers among Thailand's three million Chinese population had been organized under the banner of the Communist-controlled Central Labor Union in the early post-war period.

Employees are almost all Chinese. The whole economic life of the nation is in the hands of Chinese. Thai workers are paid much less than the Chinese workers on the plea that the former are indolent and inefficient.

Wildlife Diet Fare Of Veteran Trapper

BISSETT, Man.—(AP)—People who are finicky about their diet should try the fare of "English John", a trapper on the fringe of this mining settlement, 100 miles north of Winnipeg.

English John has lived with the Indians of Manitoba as one of them since he was a small boy. He speaks the language better than most natives.

In his time—John figures he's "somewhere around 63"—he has eaten most of the foods of his adopted brothers including caribou, fish, beaver, squirrel, lynx and hawks. But he has often gone hungry while on the trap-line trail. "Sometimes we would go three and four days without food," he says. "We had to live on the wild stuff. If there was none we went hungry. But I backed up on night owls and skunks. That was too much for me."

The skunk ranges from Hudson Bay to Patagonia.

The African buffalo doesn't get the publicity that the more spectacular elephants, lions, and rhinos do, but many big game hunters rate it as the most dangerous to hunt of all African animals. A buffalo bull will trample and paw a victim for hours.

Pepper Picker Just A Picker

EAST LANSING —(P)— Peter Piper, who picked a peck of pickled peppers was just a picker.

Pickle packers from some 25 states and Canada, in their annual conference at Michigan State College, report their pickle production as several million times Peter Piper's record.

Pickles, they report, are the nation's third largest canning crop with a production of 25,000,000 cases a year. Only peas and corn top the pickle.

As a raw product, pickles bring American farmers about $50,000,000 a year. A third of this comes from Michigan.

Michigan ranks third in the nation as a pickle producer and also leads the nation in probing pickle problems.

Pickle research is headed by Dr. F. W. Fabian, professor of bacteriology at Michigan State College. The pickle research laboratory, first in the country, has been in operation for more than 20 years.

Prof. Fabian had some cheering words for the 228 pickle packers and growers in attendance. He said the business is booming—mainly because housewives aren't trying to preserve pickles as they used to.

The conference, which also includes kraut packers, assembled to discuss such common problems as pasteurization, quality control, employment and labor, disease and pest control and the latest developments in the field of pickle packing.

Deer-Killing Dogs Become More Savage

VICTORIA, B. C. —(P)— Deer are faced with a new danger—undisciplined domestic dogs.

George Stevenson, provincial game inspector, reported the dogs are becoming more savage than mountain lions during some seasons of the year. He said the Game Department had to kill 12 dogs in two weeks recently.

The dogs go up into high ground near the shore and chase the deer down on the beach, then bite a hole in the stomach or throat and leave the deer to die.

When the snow is deep, they chase deer until the deer are exhausted, then kill them and leave them. "In very rare cases, the dogs make a meal of the meat," Stevenson said.

The world contains 1100 kinds of animals and insects, with thousands of varieties of each.
